Mitch DeShon

Mitch, this is it - 1981
 We're graduating. I'm not surprised that you are.
 cuz you're pretty smart, and even though you did get 3/4 of your knowledge from Braboff's Business class??
 I think you're such a "super-sweetie" and I know (at least I hope) you'll remain that way always. You had us didn't have a better class together, but then Buchanan's had a couple of laughs. I hope you had a great year, cuz '81's the best. I know I'll see you next year at GFC, hope the years there will be as fun as Savanna's. Good luck Always in everything you do!!
 Have an "outrageous" summer, and I'll see ya in September of '81
 Chris

BRIAN'S BROTHER,
 IT'S BEEN GREAT
 ESPECIALLY SINCE 8TH
 GRADE. YOU'RE A SUPER
 PERSON AND I KNOW
 YOU'LL DO WELL IN WHATEVER
 YOU APPLY YOURSELF.
 THANKS FOR BEING SUCH A GOOD FRIEND AND GOD BLESS YOUR LIFE. LOVE & FRIENDSHIP.

Todd
 Thompson

Mitch,
 I've waited so long
 for this graduation,
 but at the same time,
 I don't know what to do. Although I do feel this year had been too short for me, I'm glad I had a chance to get to know like you.
 Well, he looks like you
 all around huh?
 I'll be seeing you have a good summer. Stay cool.

"We May Never Pass This Way Again"

Savanna High School, since it first opened twenty years ago, has been the Home of an extra spirited student body known as the Rebels, who like the Rebels of the old south, take pride in what they believe in. Savanna has kept the faith through the years and the Student body of 1977-1978 demonstrated this faith when they rallied against a closure threat by the district. The Rebels emerged victorious and since then have kept the Rebel Spirit going strong.

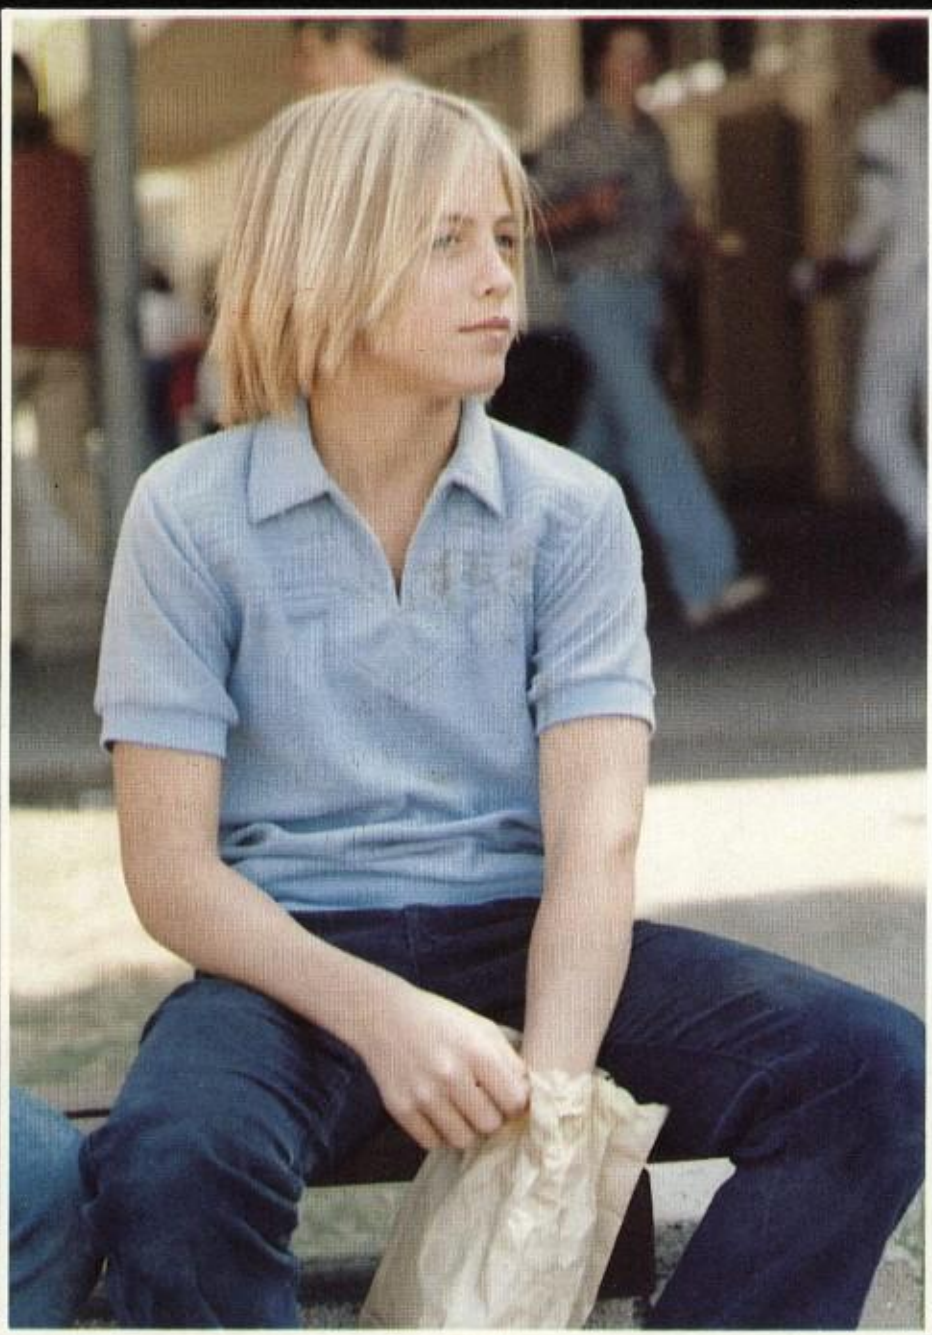

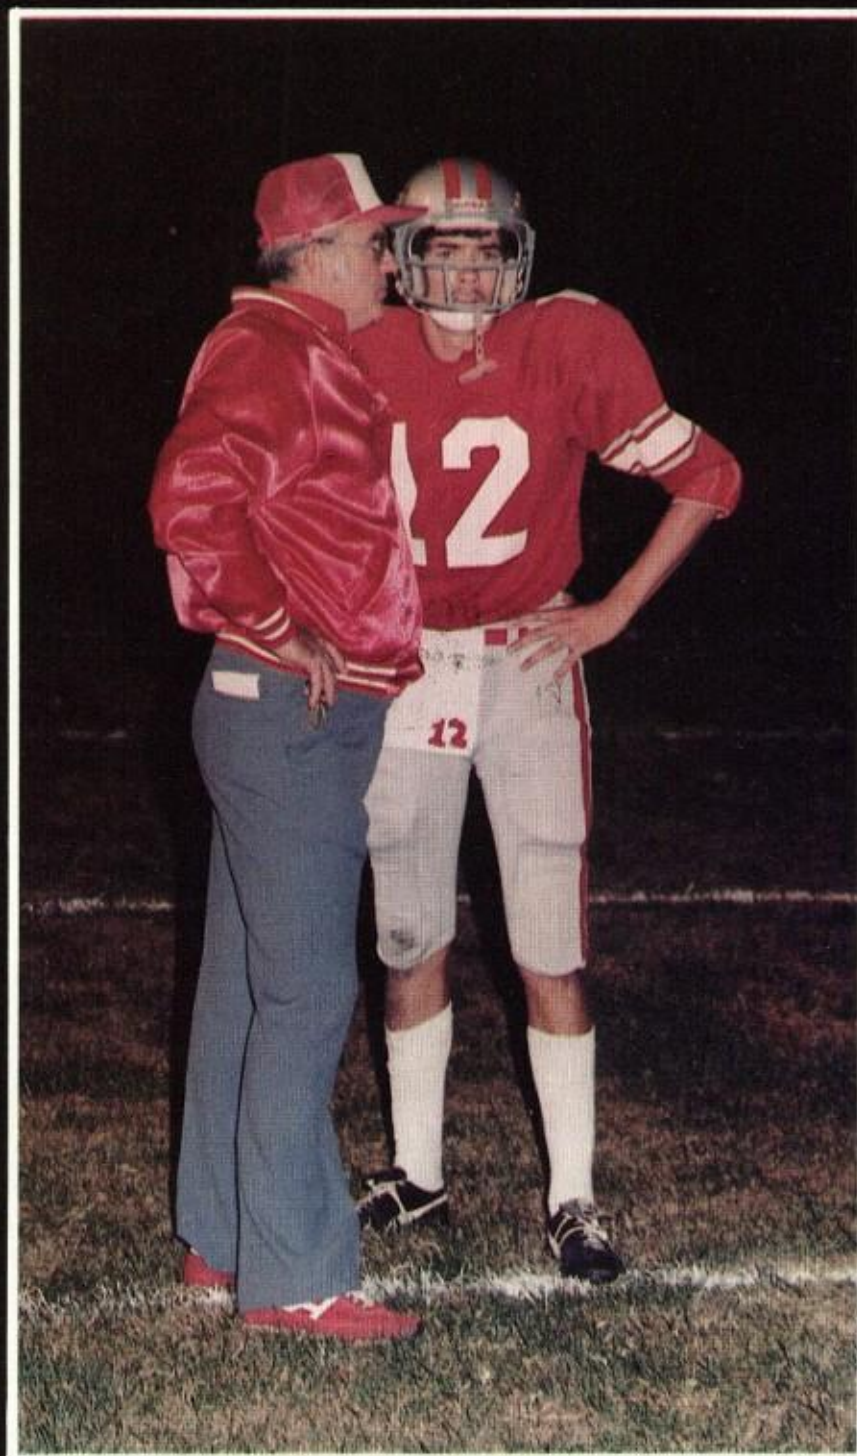

As we look back on the 80-81 school year, we remember the smiles, the good times and the friends we shared them with. We will never again experience a year quite like this one. For the first time in Savanna's history, a freshman class became part of the student body. Everyone adjusted well to the changes, and a student body of which half had started as new students, soon were united. The year and its happenings were unique and although we can never pass this way again, we can, indeed, cherish the memories.

Like the twilight in the road ahead . . .

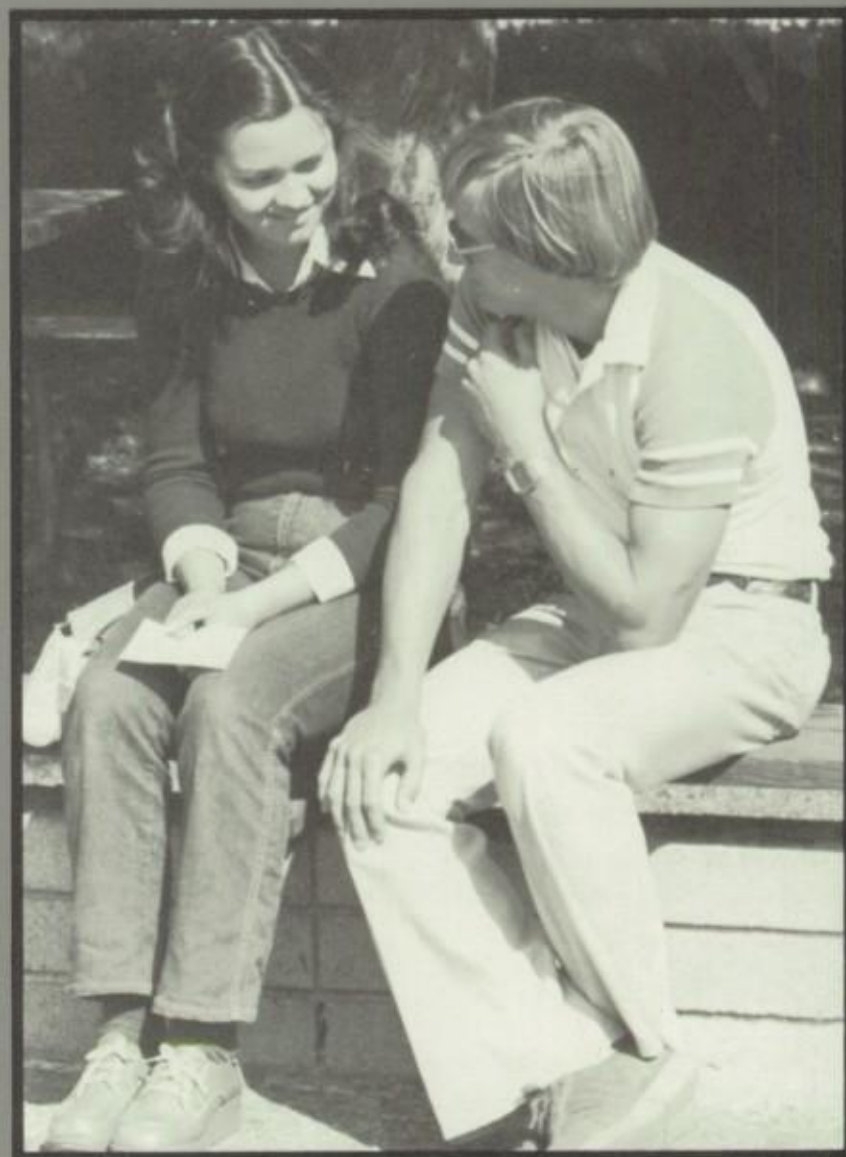

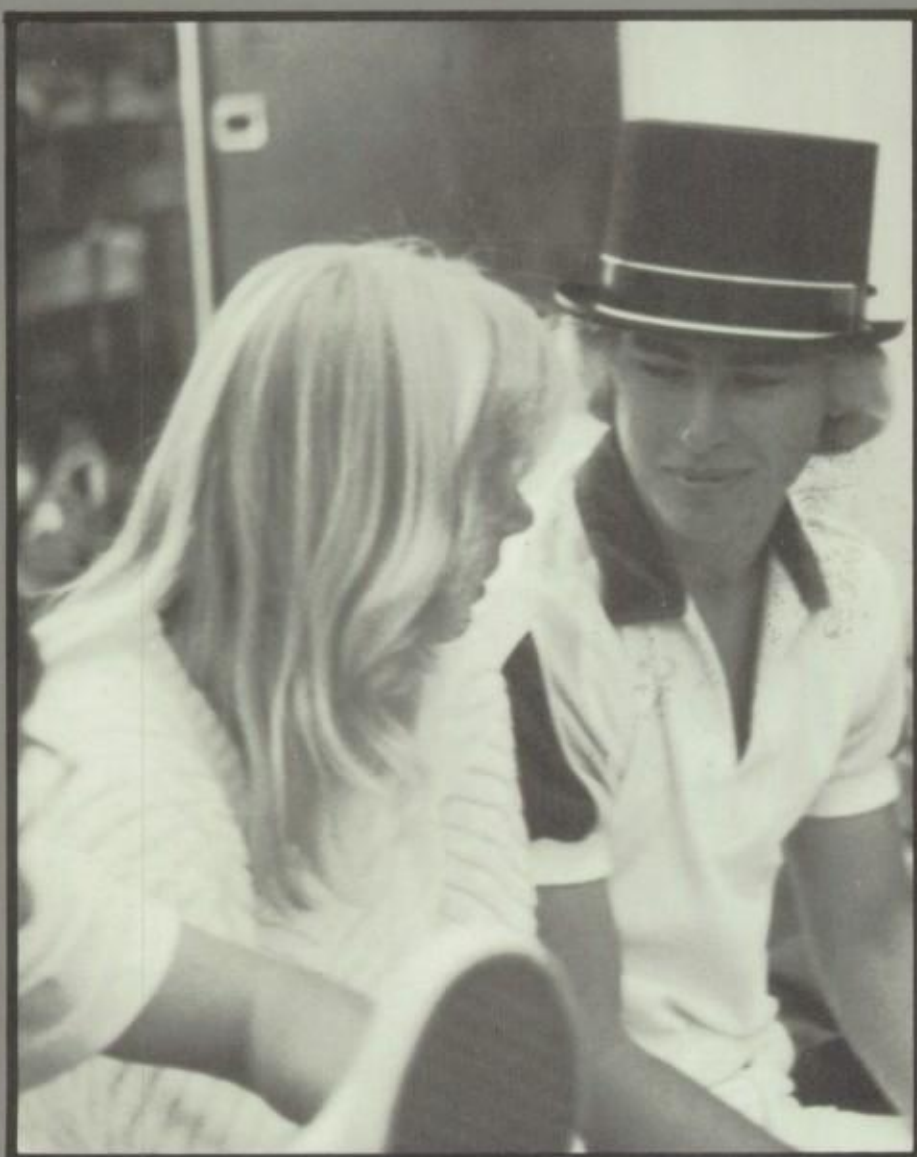

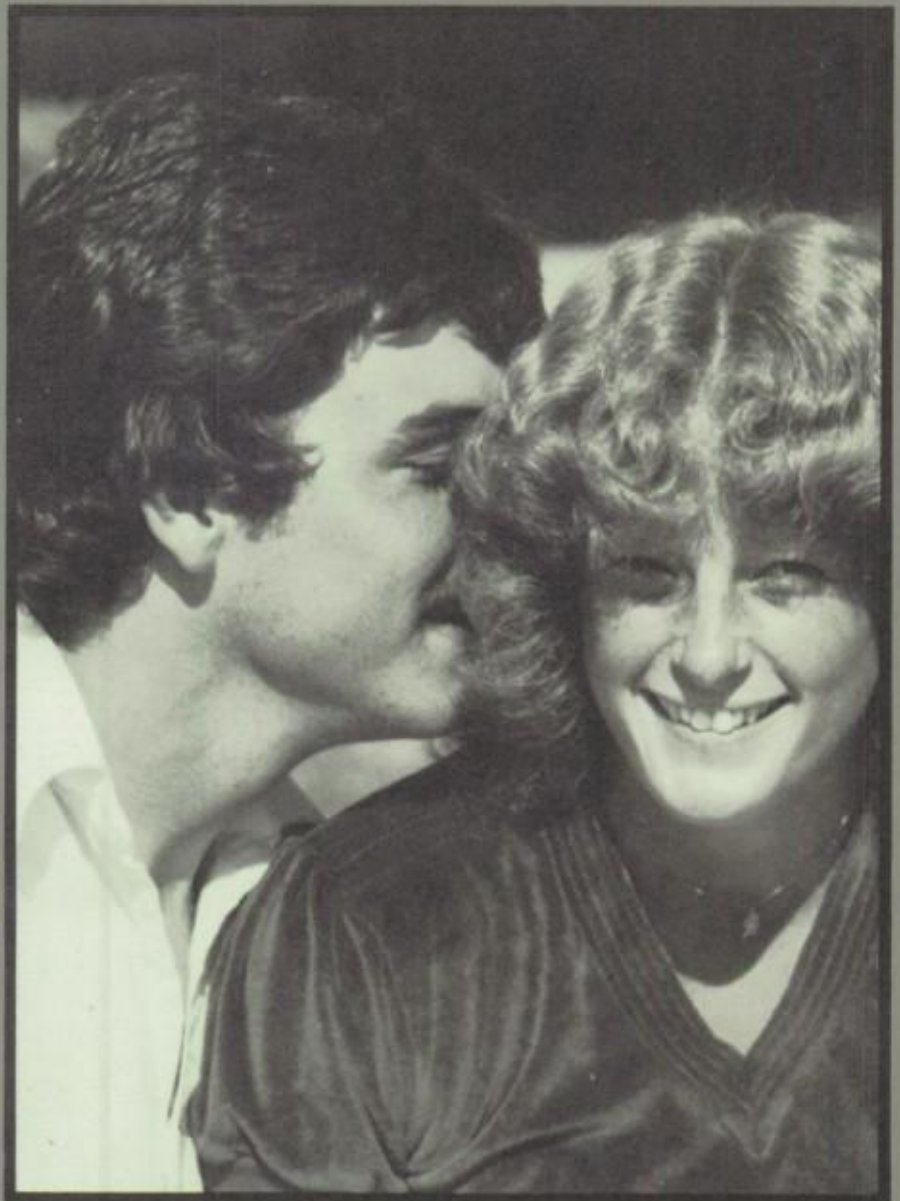

We don't see just where we're going

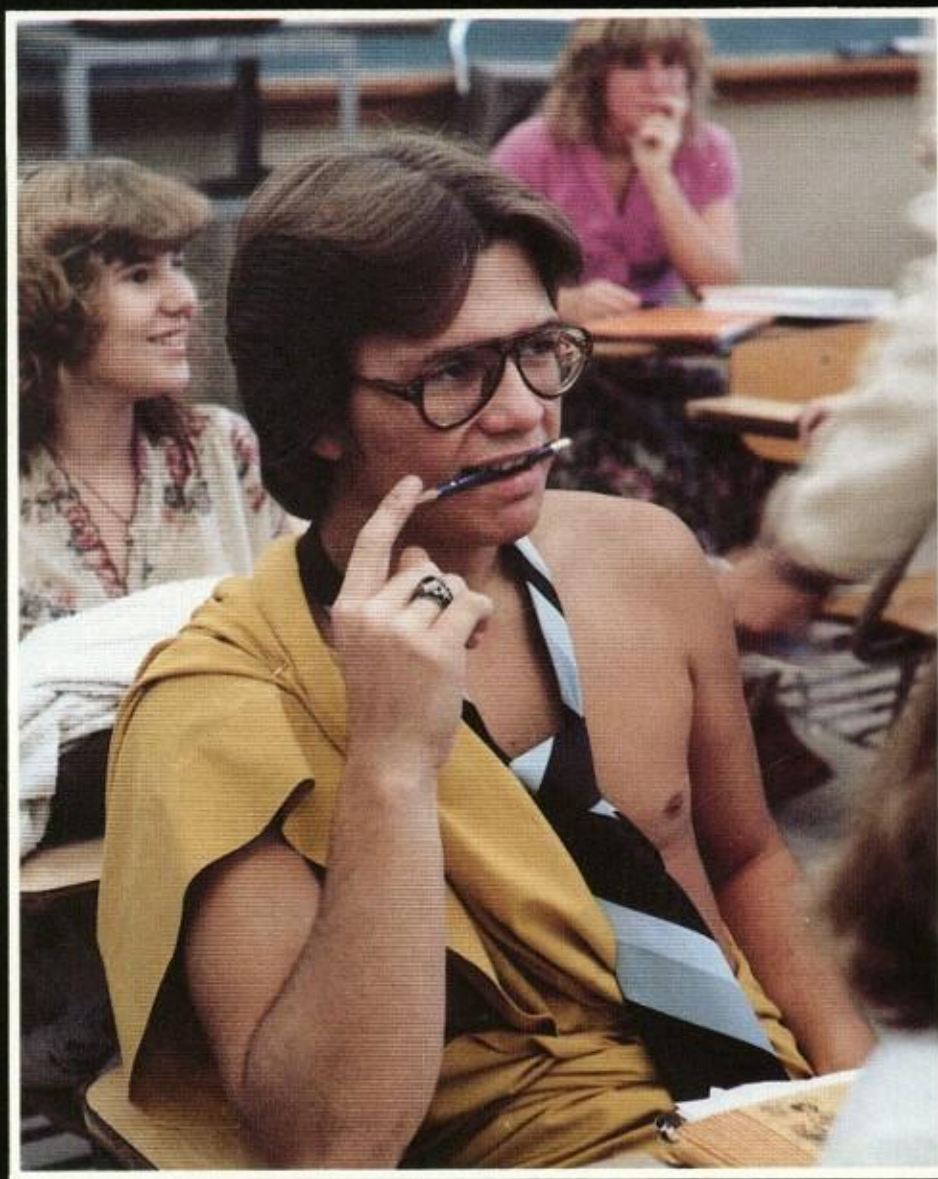

And all the secrets of the universe

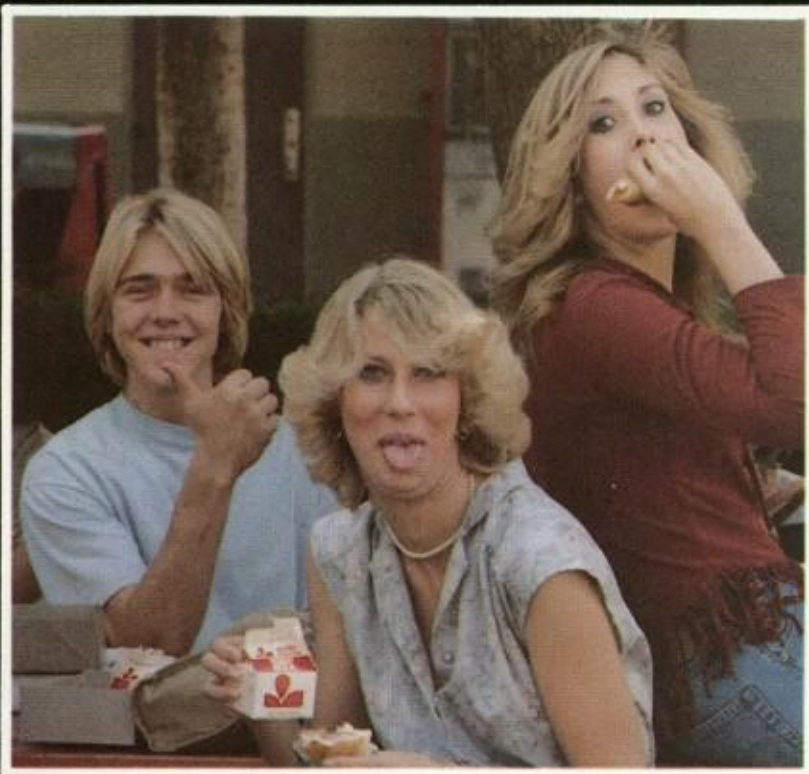

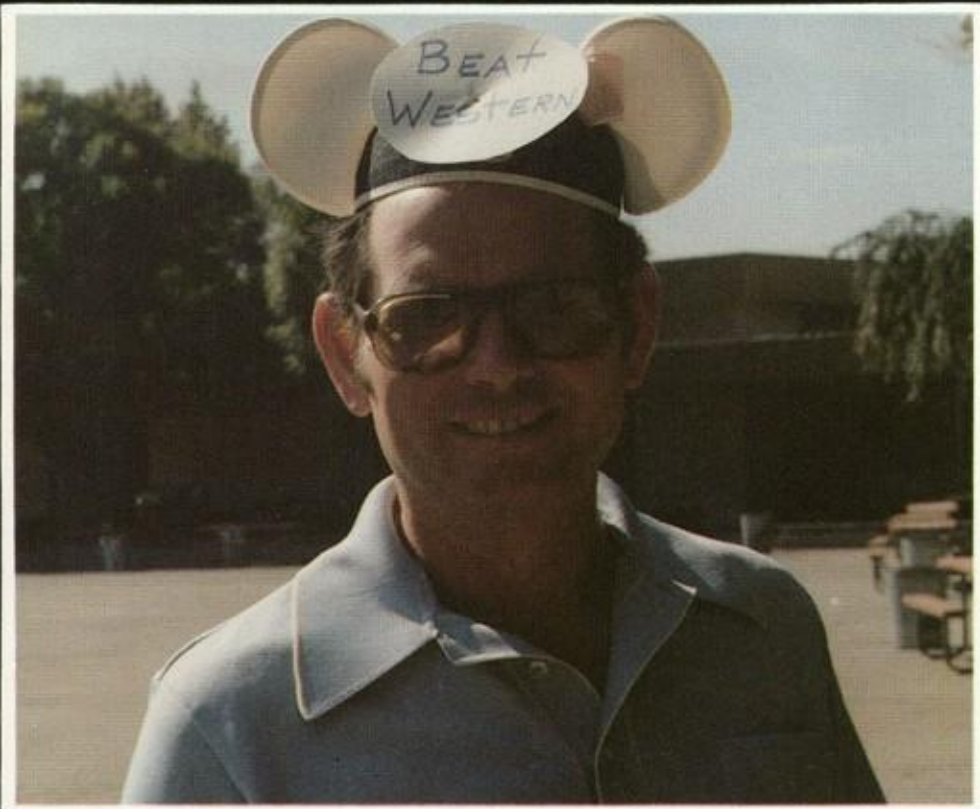

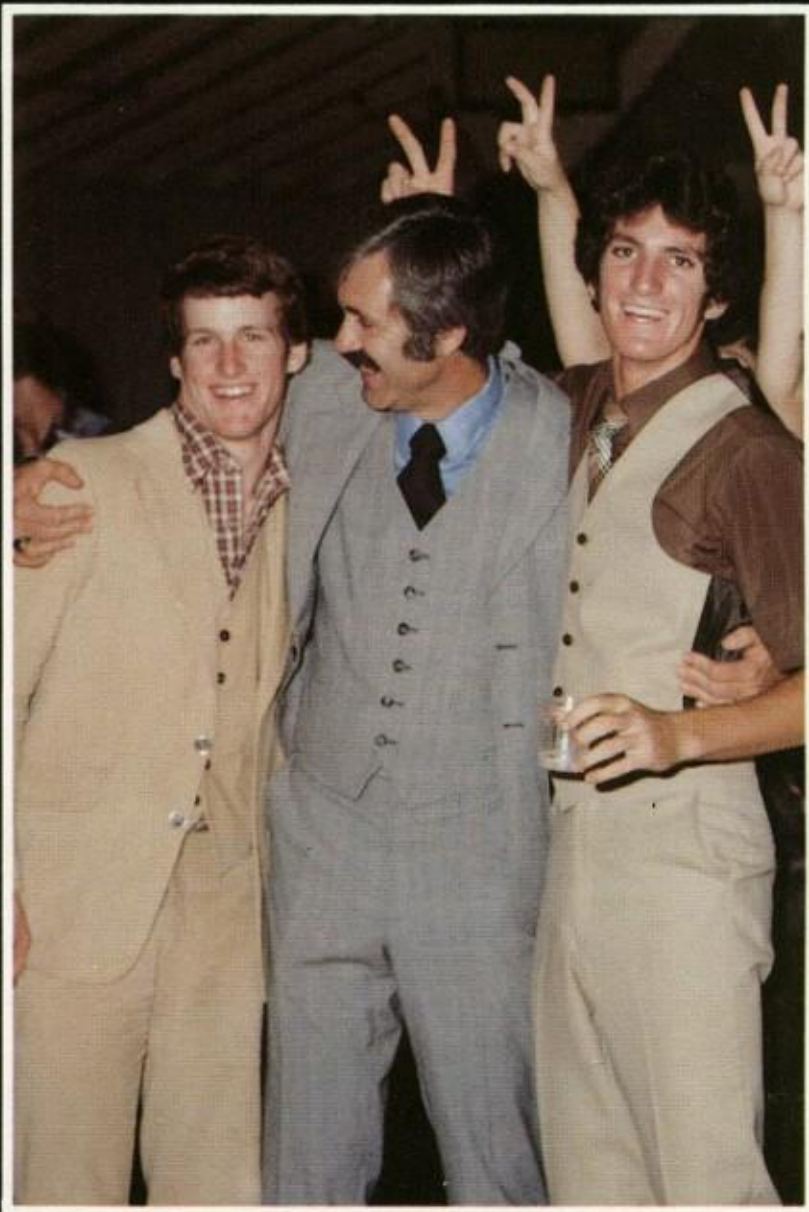

Whisper in our ears

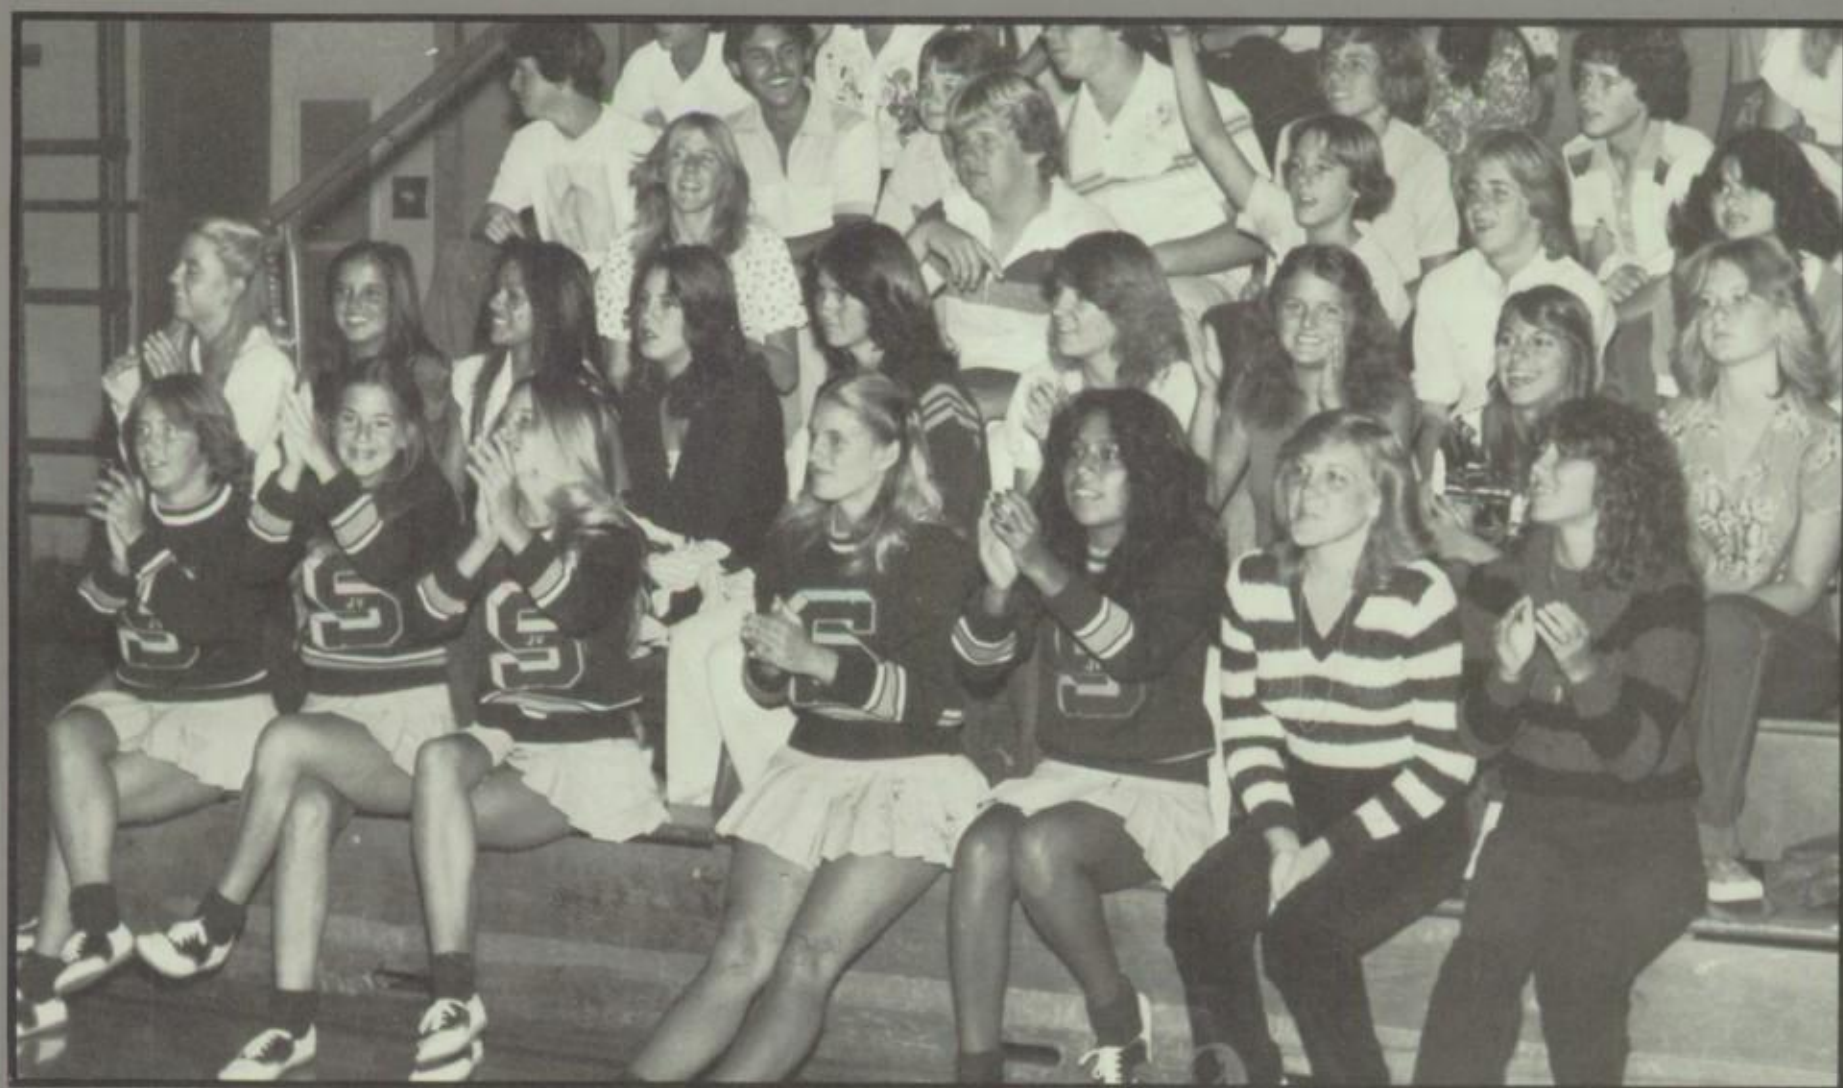

All the years that come and go . . .

Take us up, always up — We may never pass this way again.

SENIORS

mitch,
 Can you believe we're almost out of here. What's happenin' bro?
 So everything's jumbos up.
 Doesn't it seem like yesterday we were at Brown's. Guess how time fly's. Your friendship will always mean a lot to me.
 Lets keep-in-touch. May your future be filled with happiness and many good times
 Take-care

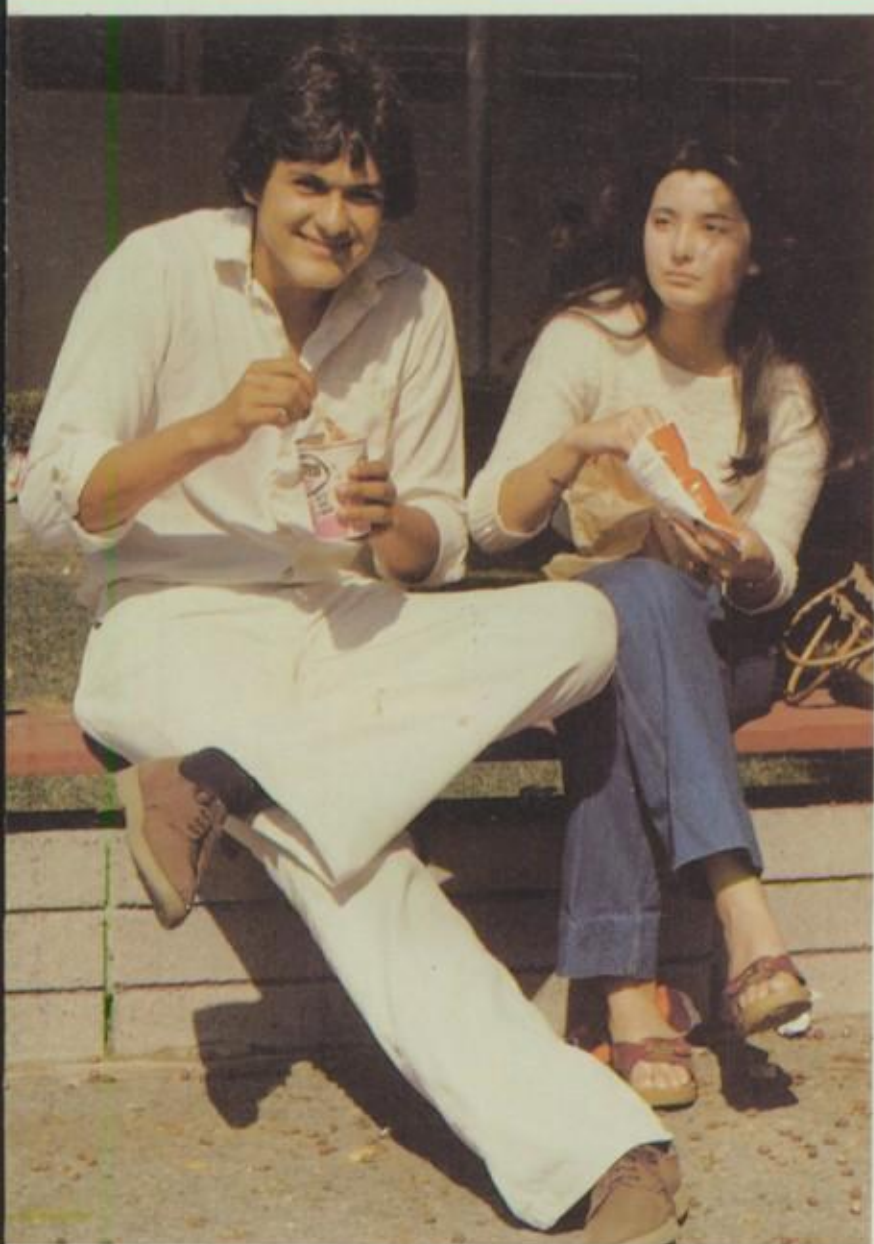

Love, God Bless

Class of '81 Started new Rebel traditions

Spirit and creativity went into all of their activities as the Senior Class of '81 added a unique touch to the school year. Months of planning by the senior officers went into the production of the 1980 Homecoming Week, half-time show, and the much anticipated Homecoming Dance. The Balboa Pavilion set the scene on October 25 for Savanna's first-ever dinner-dance, which was a tremendous success. Along with selling class t-shirts and holding an Easter carrot sale, the senior leaders planned the Baccalaureate, and designed a new school seal for the graduation announcements.

Our term here at Savanna is almost completed. The years have been good but short. The athletics and activities have made blue days red and gray. With our spirit we kept our school from fatal death and made it bigger and stronger. Long live Savanna, long live Rebels and long live the spirit of 81. Scott Harris

Senior year rushes past me, college is just around the corner. Many not really sure what they want to do. We've adjusted to the changes that were put before us and handled them with dignity. Many people who have become friends throughout our three years may never see each other again, but that is another change and we will face it with maturity and pride. I wish the class of '81 best of luck in the future and may everyone's hopes and dreams come true. Pam Ingram

ACTIVITIES

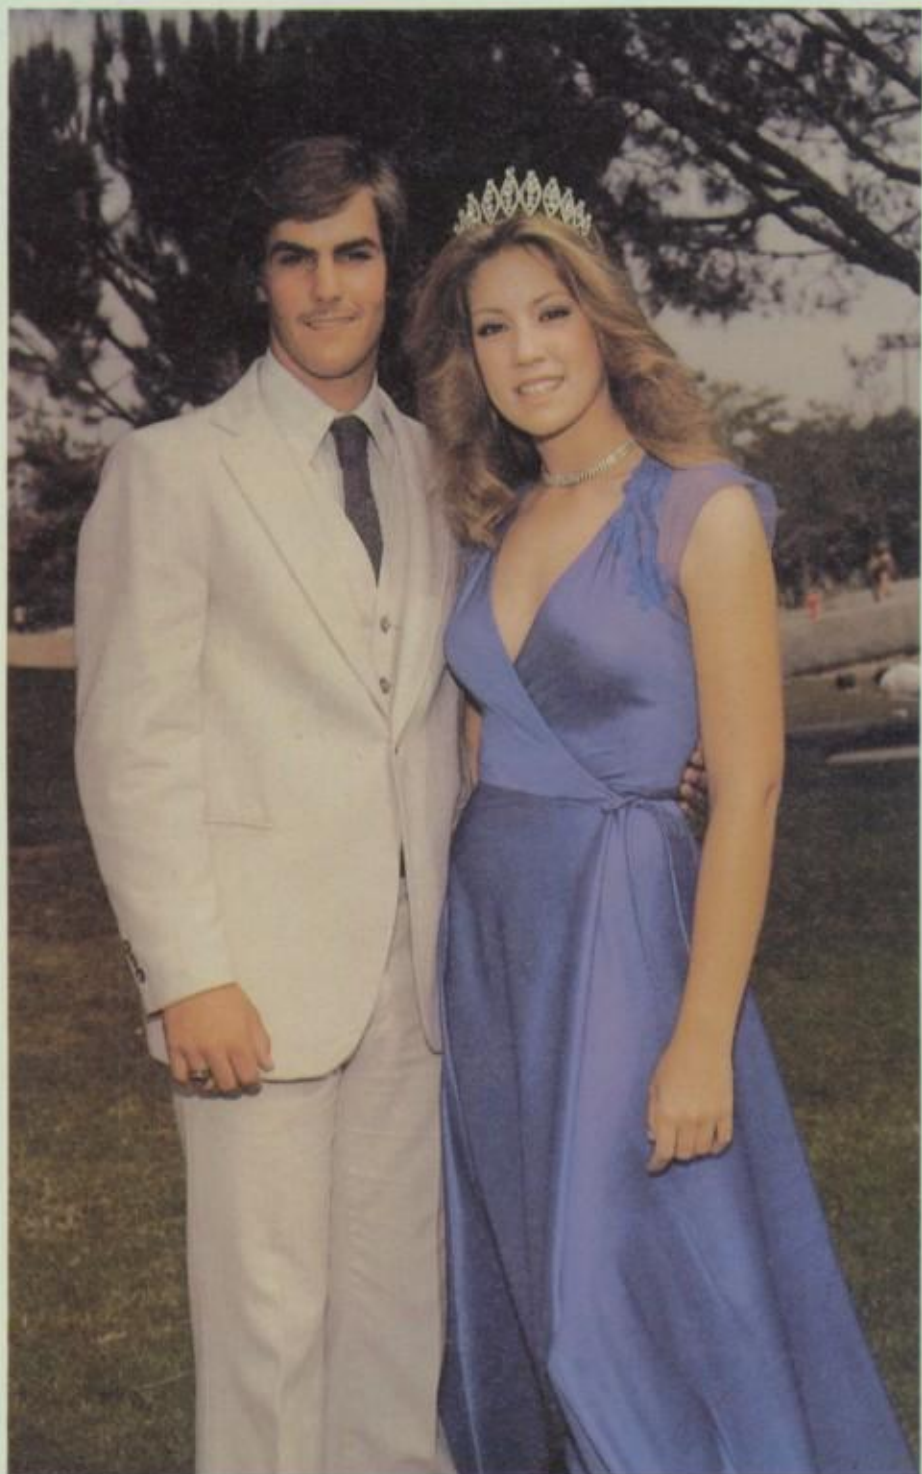

Royalty Announced at Homecoming '80

Rebel spirit was at its best when Savanna faced Western for the 1980 Homecoming Game. Alumni cheer and songleaders joined this year's squads in leading chants before a crowd of Savanna students, alumni, and parents. Excitement grew as half-time approached and coronation ceremonies began with a spectacular performance by the Mighty Marching Rebels. After the 1980 Homecoming Court was presented, last year's King and Queen, Kevin Baehr and Lisa Dickerson crowned the new Royal Couple Tom Tully and Vickie Mee. The Senior Court was then driven off the field in classic sports cars. Although the Rebels failed to bring home a victory, Savanna's number one spirit never faltered, and the evening ended as every Rebel joined proudly in singing the Alma Mater.

1. Senior Princess, Donna Anderson, glows with happiness.
2. Alumni songleader, Michelle Manley (far right), and J.V. Cheer add sparkling smiles to Friday's game.
3. David Song and Kenny Diebold show that their hearts are loyal and true by singing the Alma Mater.
4. Lisa Dickerson, 1979 Queen, crowns Vickie Mee as the Homecoming Queen of 1980.
5. The 1980 Homecoming Court awaits the final decision, during half-time ceremonies.

"Moonlight on the Bay" was huge success

A cool, misty breeze, the smell of the ocean and a lovely view of Balboa Bay all set the mood for Savanna's 1980 Homecoming dance. Held at the beautiful Balboa Pavilion, on October 25, the dance included dinner, and dancing to the sounds of "Surge," an outrageous band that is a favorite among Savanna students. "Moonlight on the Bay," was the very appropriate theme for the evening, as Savanna students could view the moon's reflection on the water from their tables in the Pavilion. The dance was thought by many to be one of the best dances ever, and thanks were extended to the senior class officers for their efforts. For those students who attended, the homecoming dance will be long remembered in their hearts.

1. Vickie Mee and Tom Tully cut the cake during a break in the dancing.
2. Donna Mee eyes the camera while enjoying dinner at the Pavilion.
3. Rebels take advantage of a mellow tune by "Surge."

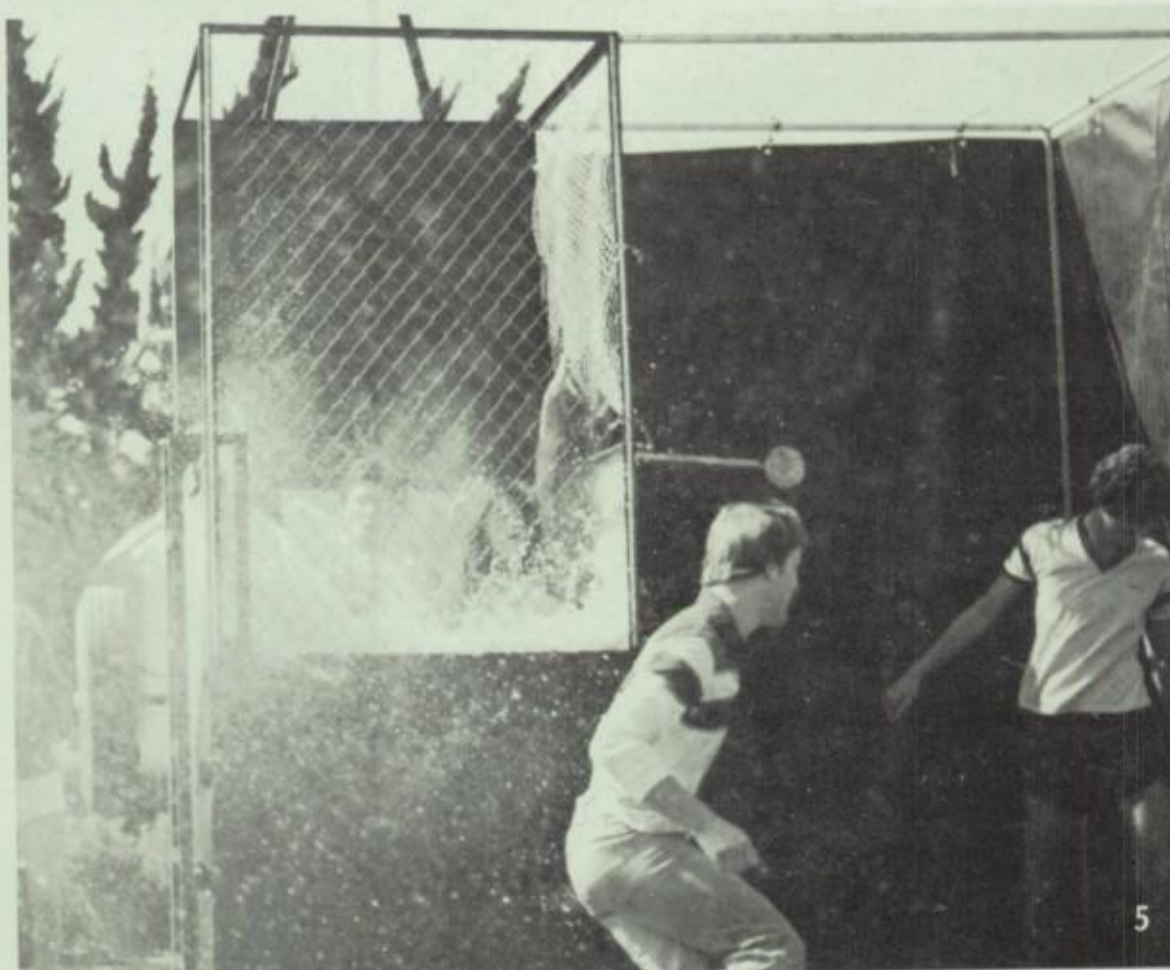

Rebels join in celebrating Homecoming Week

Homecoming Week provided Rebels with the chance to show their school spirit. On Monday, Hat Day, Rebels came to school wearing all sorts of crazy hats. A Hat Competition was held at lunch. Pet Day, Tuesday, brought everything from huggy bears to tasmanian devils. At lunch time pets were judged on cuteness, most loved, and various other categories. If you hated to get dressed in the morning, Wednesday, P.J. Day, was probably your favorite day. A dunk tank was set up at lunch time, and students paid money to try and drench their friends or foes. On Thursday Rebels came to school decked out in their best western-style duds in honor of Urban Cowboy Day with a watergun fight at lunch. Togas were the dress for Friday, and it seemed as if Animal House had been reborn. A "Grape-feeding" Contest took place during the Homecoming Assembly.

1. Deidra Dwyer dares Shelia Garcia to move a mustache.
2. What, Natica Patton, a shy Animal Houser?
3. Tony Ortega has a headful of a hat.
4. Gina Boyd walks her dog on Pet Day.
5. Rebels make a big splash.

A 'spirit'ed day enjoyed by all

On the 31st of October, many students demonstrated their spirit by dressing up in imaginative and sometimes wild costumes from bumble bees to headless horsemen. Ghostograms, bought earlier in the week, were distributed by Girls League throughout the day. During Lunch, new wave music was played, along with the "Time Warp," from the Rocky Horror Picture Show. Some energetic Rebels spontaneously joined in the comical dance, and spent the remainder of lunch pogoing. Student and teacher participation was very good this year, and added some variety to the daily routine. At what other time could one have a western outlaw teach government or sit next to a hooker in math class? The day wasn't your typical Friday, but Savanna is more than just a typical school!

1. A gruesome vampiress enjoys a delicious snack at nutrition.
2. Supercool Scott Freeman portrays the insane Jake Blues of the Blues Brothers. Where's Elwood?
3. Bunny Andrea Woody is dressed to kill.
4. Just clowning around, Special Ed Aid, Barbara Tweedy, Student Bobby Wolefle and Special Ed Aid Jeanine Dixon spring a smile for us.

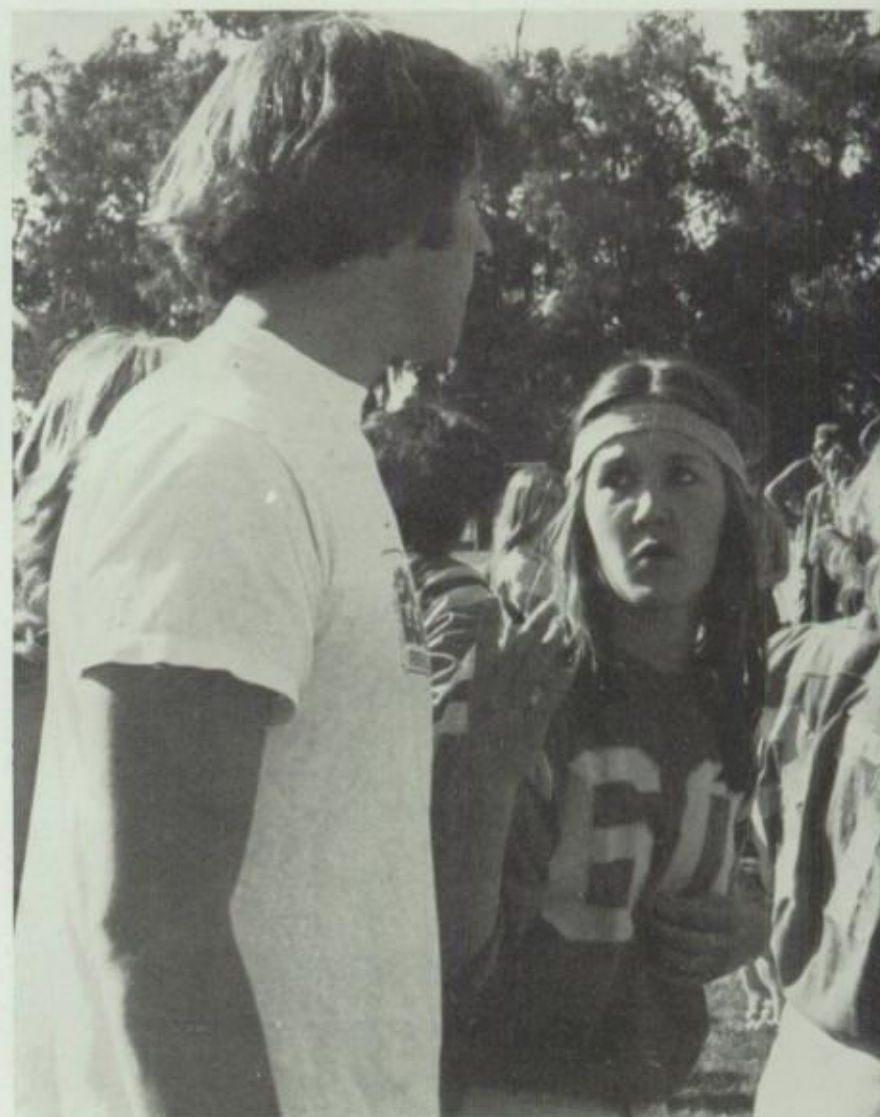

1. Various students pogo to the wild sound of the "time warp."
2. Juniors Shannon Leonard, Chris Leon, Michelle Johnson and Gina Boyd strut their stuff across campus during lunch.
3. Even though Goblin Todd Trevett and Dr. Grant Ruiz are dressed up hideously for the occasion, it is also just another working day at school.
4. A spine-chilling poster welcomes students entering the activities office.
5. Star Wars characters, Todd Thompson as Yoda, Dale Nussdorfer as Darth Vader and Debbie Nussdorfer as Princess Leia prepare to "Strike Back."

Powderpuff became a reality in '80

The Jr.-Sr. Powderpuff Football Game has been a Savanna tradition for years and rainfall on the scheduled game day was beginning to become part of that tradition. For the past two years this day of role-reversal, when the girls become football stars and guys become cheerleaders and Rebel-Annes, had to be called off due to rain. This bit of fate, however, didn't stop the many students who worked hard in anticipation of the 1980 Powderpuff game, which was to be held on Dec. 4th. Showing much determination and an urge to win, the Junior and Senior Powderpuff teams began practicing weeks before the game. The day finally arrived after weeks of dry weather and much speculation. With it came the inevitable downpour of rain, which broke one of California's longest dry streaks, 128 days. Plans to hold the game that night at Glover Stadium had to be cancelled. The Powderpuff Assembly, however, went on as scheduled. The rally began with the introduction of the girls' teams followed with performances by the guy cheerleaders who thrilled the audience with their awesome routines and spectacular stunts. The Assembly ended with the Buxom male Drill Team wearing glittering costumes and gorgeous smiles, dancing to "Trumpet Blues." The game finally did materialize about a week later, when most of the Student Body gathered at lunch to watch the girl teams battle it out. The Seniors emerged victorious, with a score of 7 to 0.

Winter Formal '81: a memorable evening

As one of the year's three big dances, and the only formal besides the Prom, the Winter Formal at Savanna was a much-looked-forward-to event. It took place on January 24, at the Santa Ana Lodge, and, since it fell so close to semester break, was a real cause for celebration.

The Winter Formal has traditionally been a "girl-ask-guy" dance, and this year's dance was no exception. Many girls, shy at first, soon summoned up their courage and asked that special guy, whom they had had their eye on, and new friendships were formed.

On the night of the dance, "Winter Fantasy," 130 couples, dressed in tuxedos and beautiful dresses, found themselves dancing under snowflakes to the tunes of "Fat City." Tradition again made its appearance when girls removed their garters and placed them on their partners' arms during a special dance.

"Winter Fantasy" was produced by Girls' League President, Jessica Latumeten, and her officers.

1. Kim Salisbury, slow-dancing with her guy, looks as pretty as a picture.
2. Several bashful guys promoted the dance at school by wearing their best threads to class on Thursday. Here, Dean Graham shows off his outfit, complete with hat and Nikes.
3. Chuck Purrington and his sweetheart dance a slow one.

Girls' League staged a "Winter Fantasy"

1. Greta Miller and Mike Jones take a break from the dancing.
2. 130 couples attended "Winter Fantasy."
3. Tracey Gifford dances the night away with Tim Albaugh.
4. Belting out a tune is the lead singer of "Fat City."

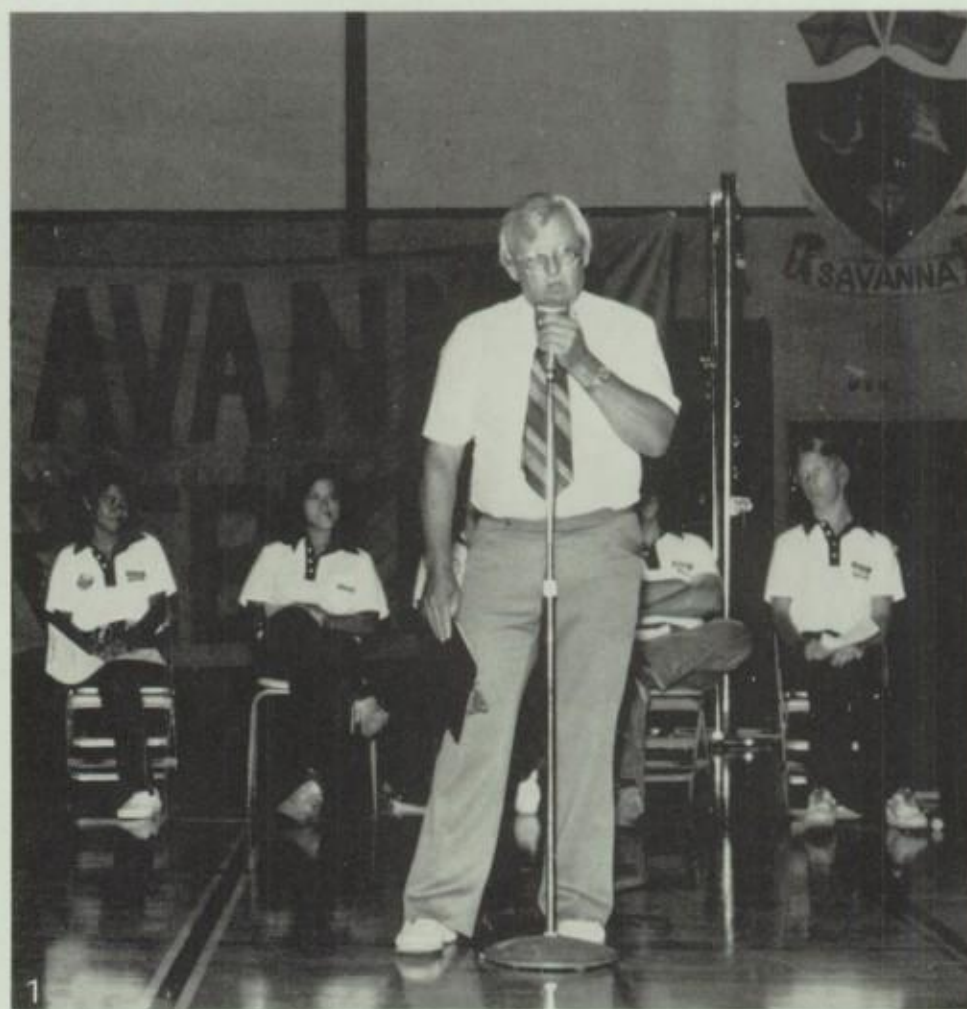

September '80

September 8th brought some 1700 students flocking throughout Saanna's halls; some familiar faces and lots of new ones. This was the first year that Savanna functioned as a 4-year school, which brought freshmen into the Rebel environment. The new freshmen and sophomore classes were welcomed to Savanna with an orientation assembly. Soon, class officer elections were held for these classes so they could be represented. A pep rally for the first football game took place on the rooftops, when the student body was entertained with cheers, chants, and dances. Football started the season off with a victory against Mayfair. Other Rebel athletes began their competition in volleyball, tennis and cross-country.

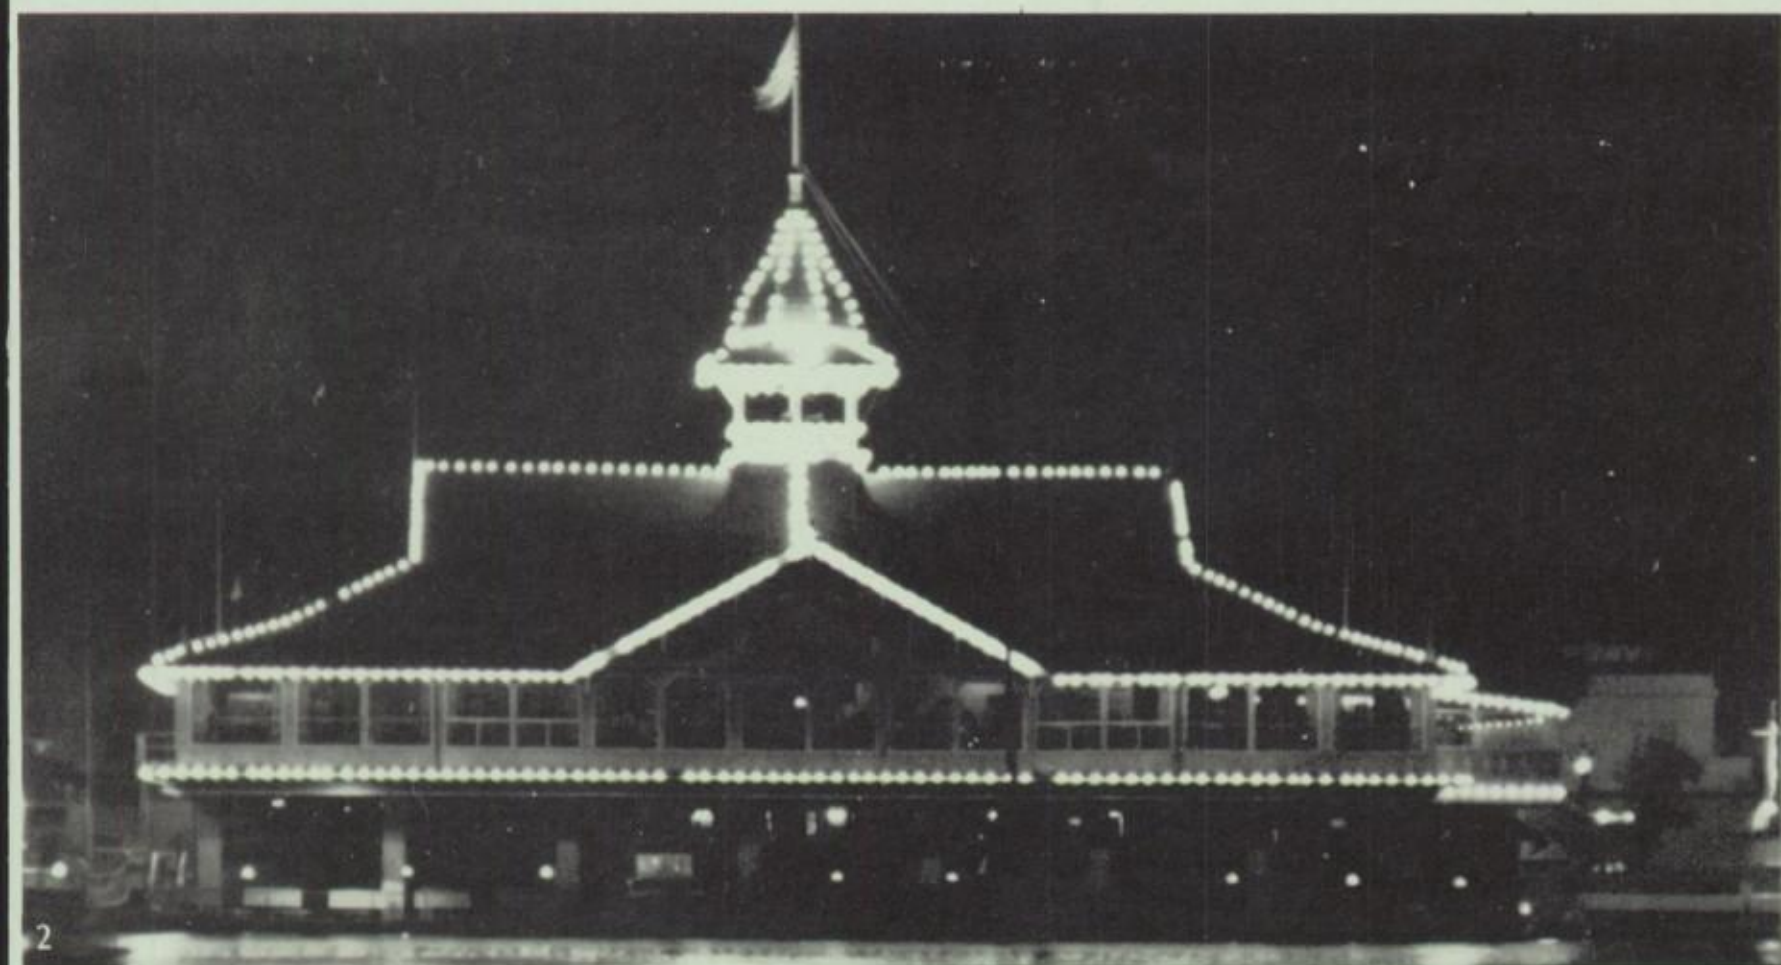

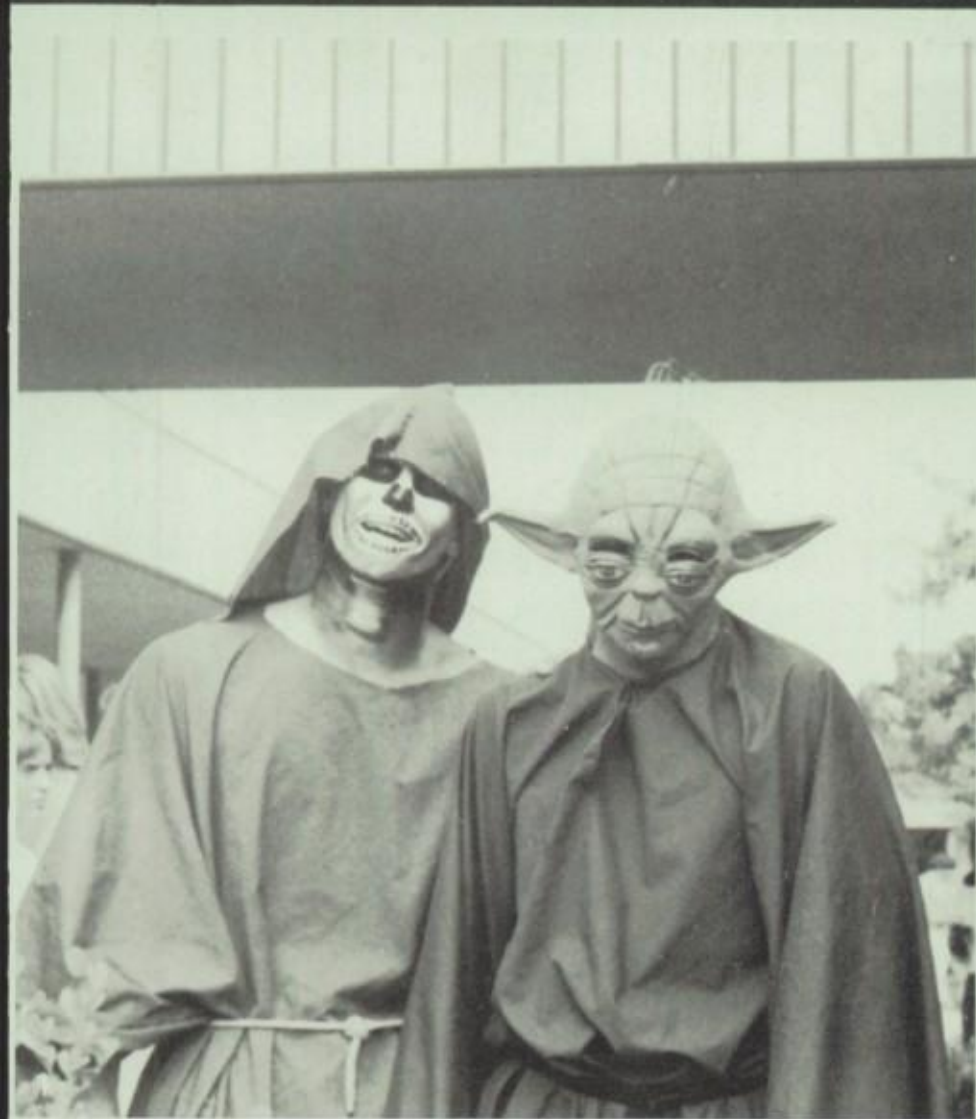

The Welcome-Back Dance was a great success and started off the year with a bang. The month of September got students excited about the year to come, and made every student proud to say, "I'm a Rebel!"

1. Assistant Principal, Mr. Nielson, addresses students at Orientation Assembly.
2. Student Council members "whip it good" during first assembly.
3. Students try to keep their cool while participating in an ice block sitting contest.

October '80

This month was one filled with many interesting and exciting activities, which gave each one of Savanna's students an opportunity to show their spirit and pride for their school. The Mighty Marching Rebels made many fine performances during the month of October. Football, tennis, volleyball, and cross country were still going strong. Homecoming week brought special activities for everyday so students could join in for the fun, and get involved. After a week of fun and festivities for all, the homecoming game was held on Friday night at Handel Stadium against Western. Savanna's royal court was announced during half-time and honored Tom Tully and Vickie Mee as King and Queen of 1980. The Homecoming Dance was held the next night at the beautiful Balboa Pavilion. Many enjoyed the delicious dinner and dancing to the band "Surge." It was a most enjoyable evening for all. Halloween came at the end of the month and students celebrated the occasion by dressing out.

November '80

November was a time to give thanks. Our Girls' Volleyball Team went to CIF while Football, Tennis and Cross Country ended their season and Basketball and Wrestling began. The Band participated in the Mission Viejo Parade and hosted their fourth annual field show tournament at Glover Stadium. Varsity Club held a money making dance in the gym, which enabled them to fix their team room. The Sophomores were selling candles and the Junior and Senior girls were starting their Powderpuff practice. SaRebs had a Seesucker sale and Reagan won by a landslide in the Presidential election.

1. Another prank played on the football team by the basketball team.
2. Kathy Roberson and Steve Ashe talk between classes.
3. Our Girls' Volleyball Team bumps another ball to victory.

December '80

Although December was a short month many activities still took place. Band and Drill Team took to the road with a performance in Antelope Valley and another at Disneyland. Red, white, and pink carnations were sold by CSF. The Varsity Basketball Team was defeated by the Alumni in the Alumni Game. Between the rainy days, Powderpuffers battled it out on our field during lunchtime. The Seniors were victorious over the Juniors. Student Council had a trial open council meeting and were surprised by the big turn out. Everyone was happy by the time vacation finally came around.

1. Student Council members pogo to Devo's "Whip It."
2. Students enjoy lunch, on one of the many sunny days of December.

January '81

January brought forth the new year of '81 filled with excitement and anticipation of the months to come. School commenced on the fifth and the Rebels returned again to their classes. Rebel athletes resumed their competition in basketball and wrestling. Kiwanis Bowl was held with academic teams representing many of Savanna's organizations. Girls' League held a fashion show modeling many vogue styles. The semester was coming to a close, which meant students had to prepare for final exams. The Winter Formal Dance was held at the Santa Ana Moose Lodge and was enjoyed by all of those who attended. As the month ended the Rebels began their new semester.

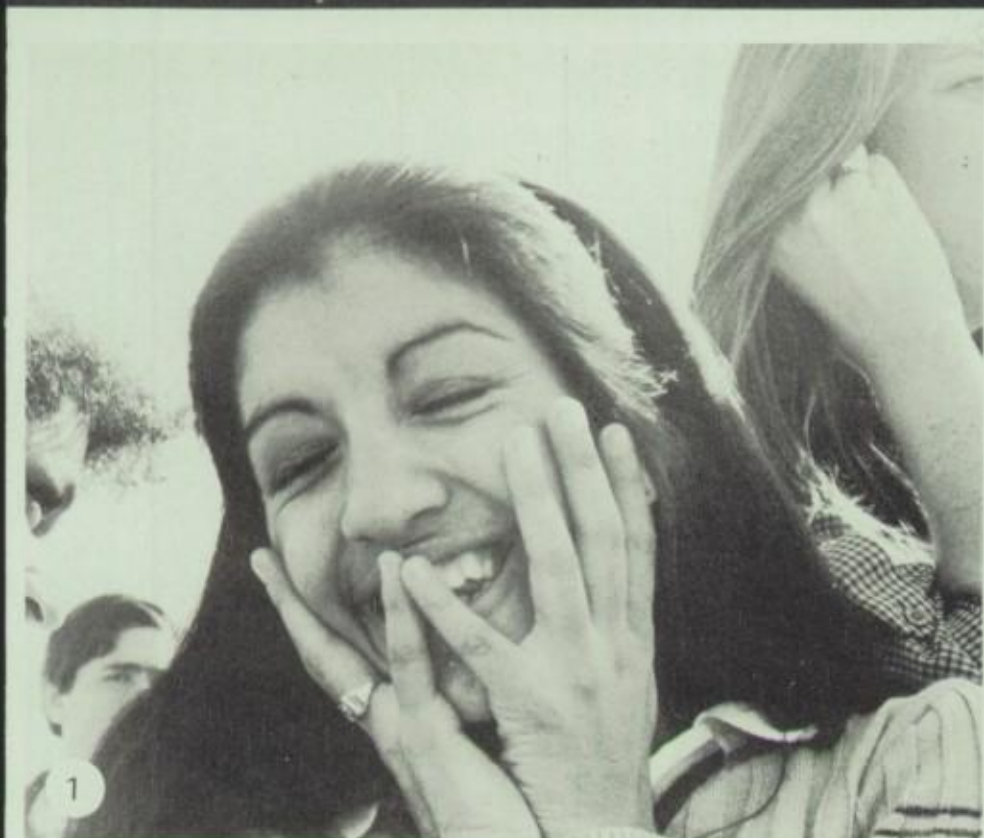

1. Savanna Rebel's Basketball team scores another point against the fighting Irish.
2. Drama Member Cheri LaMorte performs at "Is Woody Allen still alive and living on Tara Hill?"
3. Paige Shedlowski and Dave Song pose in their formal threads at the Girls' League Winter Formal fashion show.

February '81

February was a month looked forward to. Not only was it the shortest month of the year, Rebels had a five-day recess as well. Drill Team went to Miss Drill Team U.S.A. and put on a fine showing. Valentine Candy-Grams, which was sponsored by the class of '84, were delivered to all of Savanna's sweethearts. The United Fund Drive was held and students gave their donations for the worthy cause. Spring Athletics were beginning to form teams in swimming, baseball, softball and track.

1. Veronica Carrillo gets excited by a Valentine proposal.
2. The Girls' Basketball Team always used their best effort when playing in their games.
3. Chris Franco and Paula Harris share a Valentine kiss.

March '81

During the month of March the Softball, Track, Swimming, Badminton and Gymnastic teams were all very busy. Each team put in long hours of practice in hopes that many victories would be earned. A swap-meet was sponsored by the Girls' Athletics Boosters Club, in order to raise much needed funds for various sports programs. The Sa-Rebs had a successful candy sale, and an A.F.S. bond sale also took place. March was the time for the girls to ask all those lucky guys to the Sadies Hawkins Dance, which was sponsored by the Sophomore class. For the parents there was a Band Boosters Dance. Jazz Band went to the Chattey College Jazz Festival to show off their talent, while Concert Choir dazzled the students and parents at another of their fine performances. March also brought Spirit Week which gave students a chance to display their enthusiasm.

1. Is this what Kelly Harte thinks of March or is it the food at lunch?
2. Vicki Reckinger looks surprised to hear the news.
3. A button says it all.

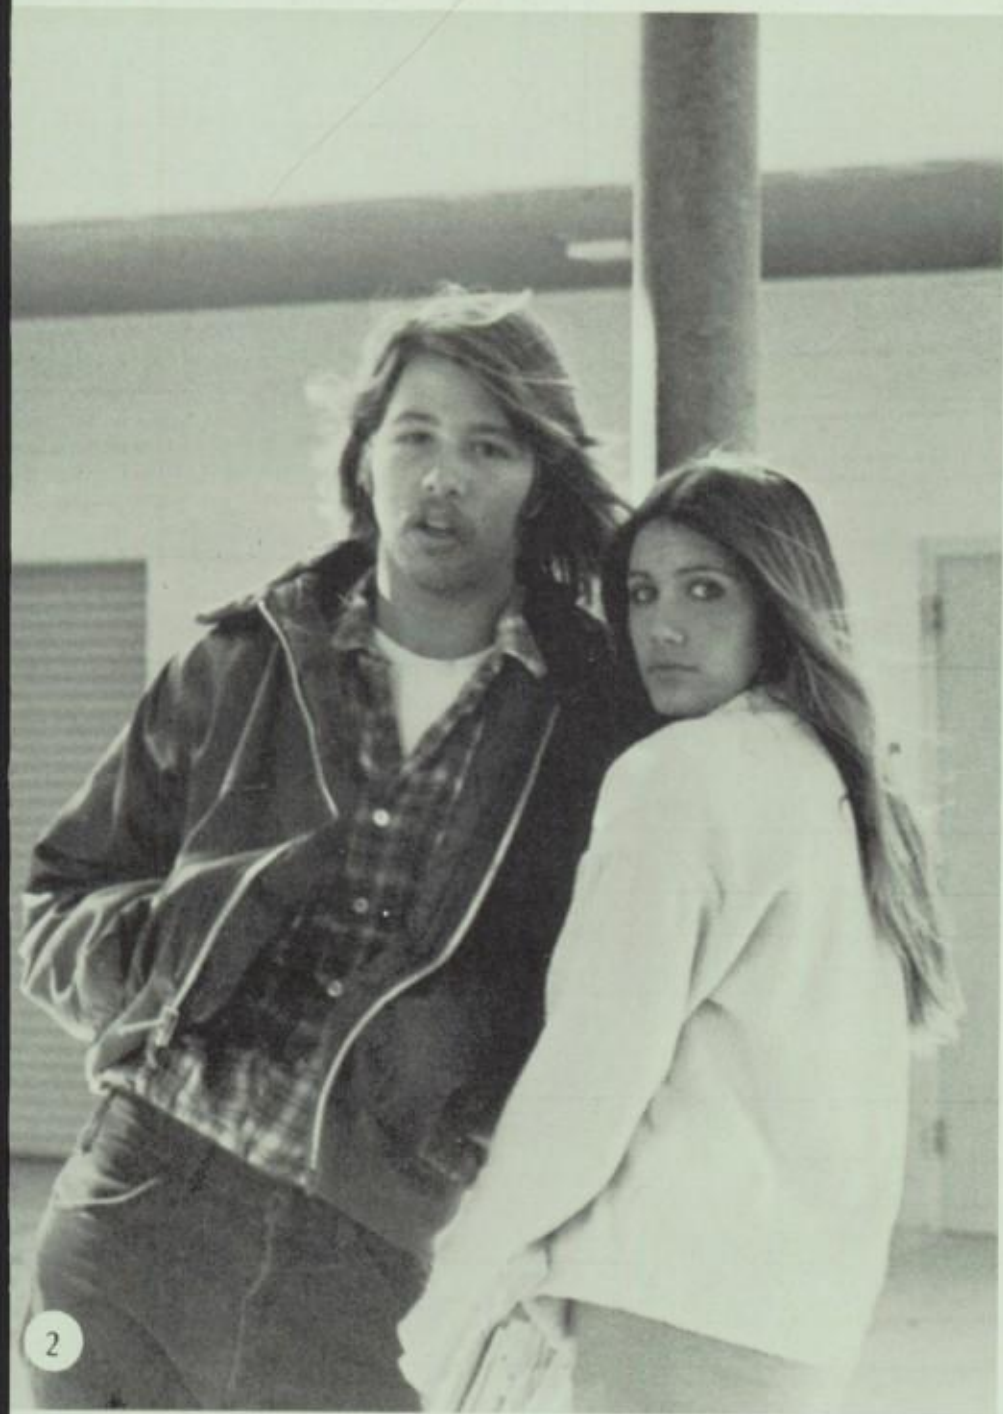

April '81

"April Showers brought not only May Flowers" but carrots, too. The Seniors had a Carrot Sale which brought the Easter feeling to Savanna. The end of the third quarter was an excellent time for the Freshmen to host the Spring Fling Dance. It seemed as if everyone was traveling to Los Angeles, as Concert Band went to the Marriott Hotel and C.S.F. took their annual trip. The Girls' Athletic Booster Club held a Spaghetti Dinner to honor the girls. Spring Vacation was a welcomed relief to the student's daily routine.

1. Toby Lucas over powers his opponent to the last count.
2. A surprise intrusion on what seems to be a private lunchtime discussion.
3. A lunchtime snack, "Good to the last drop."

May '81

With May upon us, the school year was coming to a close. Seniors were savoring their last few days of high school life. The Annual Rebel Show was held on the 1st and 2nd where some enthusiastic students entertained us with many creative acts and dances. Also the new ASB officers and drill team leaders were announced during the program. Finals for spring sports were being held. The Prom was held at the Conestoga Inn on the 16th and many Rebels enjoyed themselves dancing the night away. An Honors banquet was held for those high achieving students on the 7th.

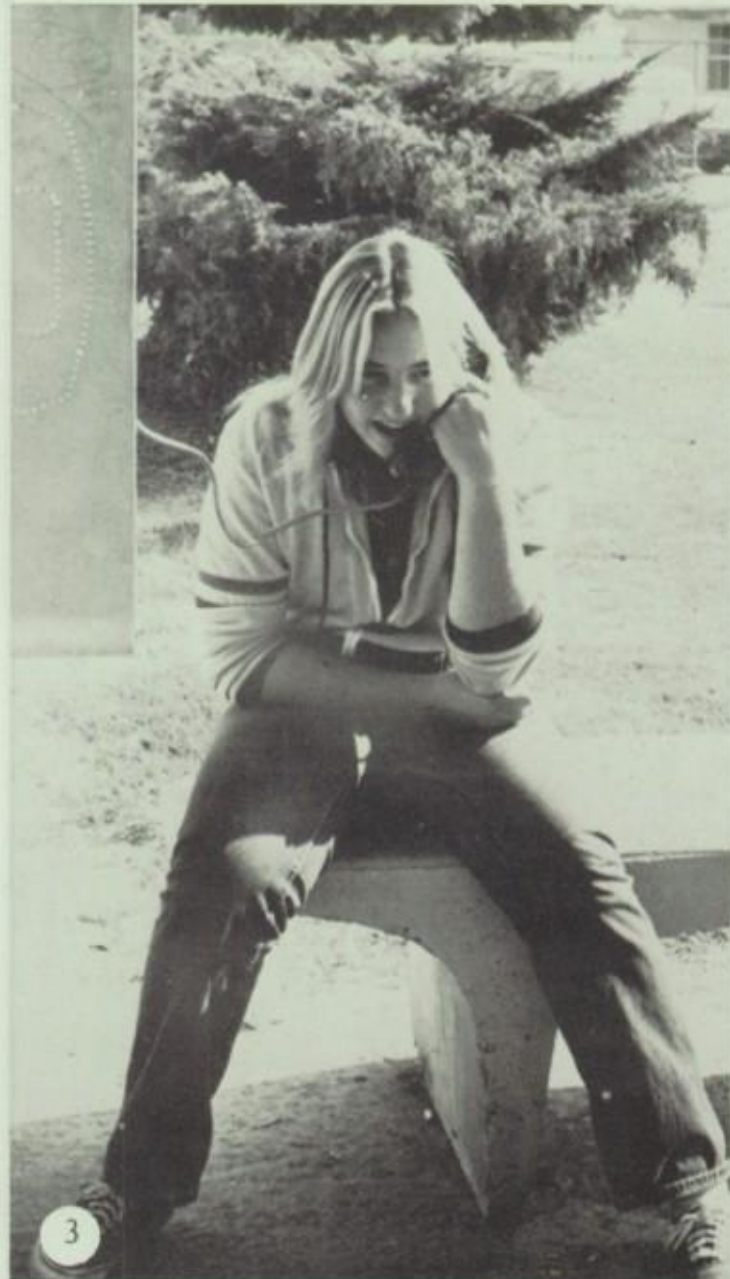

1. Kris Reinmuth prepares for the pitch.
2. Curt Olbricht and Greg Clinton seem to find something amusing at nutrition.
3. Students enjoy themselves at lunch.

June '81

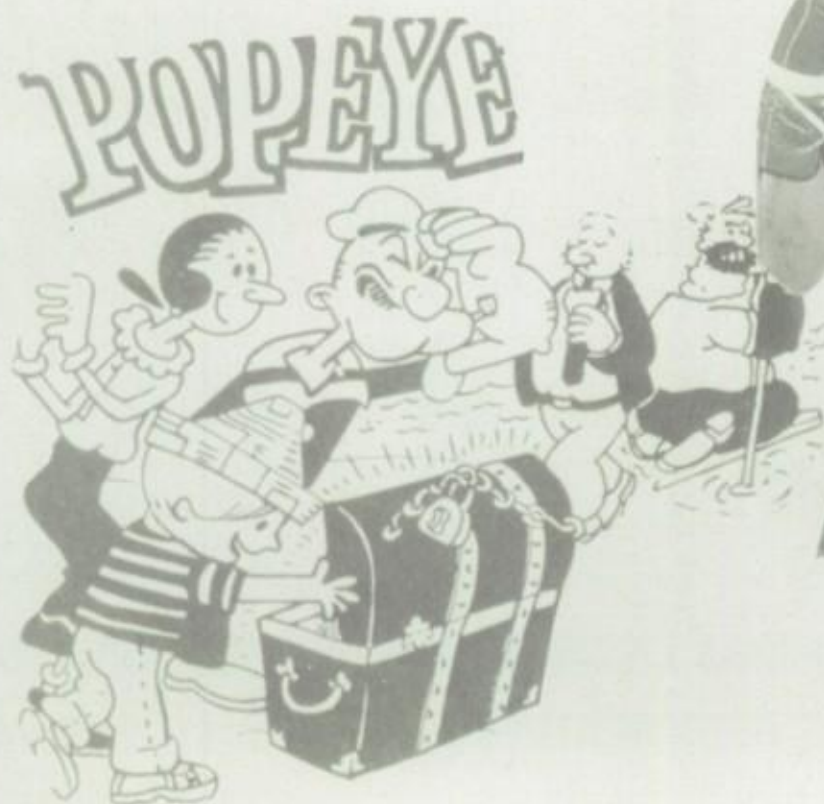

June sprang upon us, and thus brought the end of another school year. For Seniors graduating this was a big step into a new world. Award banquets were held for drill team, choir, band, athletics and seniors. Grad nite was held on June 5th for those adventurous seniors wishing to go to Disneyland for an evening. Classes were coming to a close and finals had to be taken. Years of hard work were at an end for seniors and on June 12th at the Anaheim Convention Center a proud group of the class of '81 anxiously collected their diplomas.

1. Congratulations to the graduating class of '81.
2. Army representatives try to persuade students on the army way of life.
3. Lea Putkamer asks "Come pick me up school is out."

The year of '80-'81

As time changes, it always brings new fads, faces and names into the news. This year had many fads, the two extremes being the punk-new wave lifestyle to the urban cowboy way of life. The war between designer jeans covered just about all of the advertising space on T.V., radio, magazines and billboards. We all heard the different persuasions of Jordache, Gloria Vanderbilt, Calvin Klein, Sasson, Sergio Valente and more for buying their brand of jeans. In music, Deborah Harry of Blondie was awarded with the number one hit of 1980 for "Call Me" from the movie American Gigolo. Billy Joel was named the best male vocalist of the year and Pat Benatar was the female winner. Some of the popular movies of the year were American Gigolo, Urban Cowboy, The Blue Lagoon, and Popeye. The girls men most watched were Bo Derek, Brooke Shields, and Miss Piggy. The men women rated a "10" were Richard Gere, J.R. Ewing (Larry Hagman), and Christopher Atkins. Many sports enthusiasts enjoyed watching the battles between Sugar Ray Leonard and Roberto Duran. In football, the Oakland Raiders claimed the victory in the super bowl over Philadelphia. Some of the tragic losses of the year took away such gifted people as John Lennon, Peter Sellers, and John Bonham (of Led Zeppelin). Ronald Reagan was elected as our new President in a landslide election over Jimmy Carter. On the same day of Reagan's inauguration, after 444 days of captivity our 52 Americans returned home from Iran, and were welcomed home by all of the nation. The year of '80-'81 was an exciting and memorable year and one that will stay in Rebel hearts forever.

Boy of the Year

Scott Freeman held a record of excellence in participation, leadership and service during his years as a "Rebel." His dedication had him involved in Student Congress and Student House for three years. Along with being elected Junior Class President, Scott was choir president and a member of Madrigals. He was also a member of the National Honor Society and Interclub Council. As a senior, Scott was elected Associated Student Body President where he exhibited his leadership skills while presiding over the Student Council. In addition, he was selected through the City Council to serve on the Anaheim Youth Commission. Scott's warm personality and outstanding enthusiasm brought respect from both students and faculty alike.

Girl of the Year

Tracey Gifford has shown great pride in Savanna through her academic and extra curricular involvement. Tracey was in the California Scholarship Federation for all three years and a member of National Honor Society for two years. She was the recipient of the DAR Good Citizenship Award, a member of the Kiwanis Bowl Team, and a participant in the Academic Decathlon. In school government, Tracey served on the Student Council all three years. When a sophomore she was elected class president; during her junior year she represented Savanna on the Student Advisory Board of the California Association of Student Councils; and as a senior she was pep commissioner and spent many hours of her summer vacation making pep signs, planning activities and pep assemblies. Tracey's outstanding energy, effort, and enthusiasm contributed immensely to school spirit.

Frosh added a touch of class to Savanna

When the enthusiastic freshman class arrived in Rebel territory, they found new and exciting opportunities lurking everywhere. The new surroundings and procedures took some getting used to, but the freshmen wasted little time in making themselves at home. There were people to meet, clubs to join, and activities to participate in. The new Rebels jumped head first into all aspects of student life at Savanna.

Although the freshman class officers had little experience to draw from, they proved to be excellent leaders and were instrumental in making their class a class that Savanna could be proud of.

Freshman House sponsored a candy heart sale in February, and the Spring Fling dance in April. These activities required many hours of hard work on the part of the class officers, but both events were very successful and well worth the effort put forth.

With Wendy Trevett as their president and Miss Barnett as their advisor, Savanna's first freshman class had a fantastic year!

1. Officers: president, Wendy Trevett; vice-president, Nancy Atkins; secretary, Brenden Tiege; treasurer, Laura Gomez.
2. Freshman House: M. Urrea, L. Hager, W. Trevett, V. Karlan, A. Ruzgys, T. Martinez, A. McCambridge, N. Patton, B. Tiege, M. Region, M. Taylor, H. Hernandez, P. Wickell, L. Gomez, T. Robleto.

Principal's Message

"I expect to pass through this world but once; any good things therefore that I can do, or any kindness I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now; let me not defer it or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

'Etienne De Grellet (1773-1855)

When I first came to Savanna, my office did not have a window. I felt limited, hemmed in. I wanted to see out; to observe others; to view at least part of the campus; therefore, I had a window installed. It was important to me as it has become a symbolic factor in my life.

Each scene is new and ever rewarding. With the future rushing to meet you, I observe you as you brace yourself with knowledge gained, as you steep yourself with values obtained from philosophy and history, and as you strengthen yourself from the lessons gleaned from greater literature. I perceive through the framework of my window the future as it depicts the leaders of America preparing for their role in life while leading their talents, at the present, to leadership of the Savanna Rebels.

TEACHERS STIMULATED MINDS, TAUGHT VALUABLE SKILLS IN VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS

Business Department grew better with introduction of new equipment

Some of the most popular non-required courses at Savanna this year were products of our Business Department. This department has always offered a wide range of classes for the business-minded student, but this year, it had even more to offer.

Such classes as Beginning Accounting, Modern Business Machines, and Beginning and Intermediate Typing were available. Also offered were Shorthand and a General Business course. The IBM was introduced to typing students and plans were made to fill the department with modern calculators, cash registers and dictaphones.

Students also took advantage of yet one more change — a new type of shorthand, taught by Mrs. Schmaus, which was much easier to learn. As the business field continued to grow brighter, so did the Business Department at Savanna.

PE Department offered variety

Although physical education was mandatory for only freshmen and sophomores, many students from all grade levels found that it offered a refreshing break from their academic schedule. Various athletic programs were offered, and there was something for everyone who wished to participate. In addition to football, basketball and softball, sports such as volleyball, weightlifting, swimming, scuba diving, gymnastics and badminton were also offered. Soccer, another alternative, was so popular on our campus that Savanna will enter a team in Orange League competition next year.

Under the direction of Mr. Earl Smick and Miss Diane Owen, the athletic department had an outstanding year.

Home Ec prepared students for future

The Home Economics Department offered classes in foods, clothing nursery school, and consumer education. In all of these classes, Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Gerstner taught various techniques and ideas, along with teaching how to plan and shop on a budget. One of their main goals, however, was to instill such knowledge that would be useful in the future, thus providing students with a better understanding of everyday life.

The department came up with a student of the month Award, for the 80-81 school year. This award was based on good citizenship, attitude attendance, and most importantly, a positive approach towards school.

Savanna students enriched by reading

With priorities on helping students prepare for their future, Mrs. Bosna led the reading dept. Much concern was felt for those students who were below grade level reading and/or had failed the proficiency exam. Emphasis on basic skills was highlighted with lessons on reading designs and labels, filling out applications, following directions, reading newspapers and learning of career and consumer awareness. Although reading is important to all, class activities were designed to help those with a particular reading problem.

English Dept. challenged students

Under the chairmanship of Mr. Shore, the English Department had continued success throughout the year. English was a required course for all students of the four grade levels. Students were grouped on their achievements with levels one, (college preparatory), five (reading English) and honors. Most high level students were subject to biweekly spelling and vocabulary tests, along with reading and creative writing. This year, in addition to regular book reviews, the classes were required to read assigned books as well with emphasis placed on the English Classics. Although a student may at times have felt lost or over-worked, the basic aim of the instructors was to prepare these students for the kind of work college would present to them.

Science class explored new fields

Many different levels of science were taught this year, from the very basic classes to the highly advanced. No matter what type of class was being offered the teachers in the science department made each course both interesting and enjoyable. Biology, chemistry, physics, and Life and Physical Sciences were just a few of the areas in which students could expound their knowledge. Experiments were conducted, assignments given and homework turned in. By the time every aspect of the courses was explored, students knew much more about their field of study than when the year began.

Social Studies classes geared to be informative

Rebels were required to take three years of social studies during the time they spent at Savanna. While taking these courses, students learned of world history, American history, and the government and economic systems of our country. World History was studied by the Freshmen class. Students learned of various historical events around the globe, and of how countries and colonies developed. The American Revolution and Civil War were not the only topics explored by Juniors as they discovered American History. How states became part of the union was brought to light, and the backgrounds of some of America's cities were revealed. As government students, Seniors learned their rights and responsibilities as U.S. Citizens. The different divisions of government were discussed, along with other related items. As the year progressed, Seniors became more aware of the significant role that government plays in their lives. Seniors were also required to take a semester of economics or California history. If students opted for economics, they received a basic background in money management, and if they chose California History, they heard of past occurrences in the state in which they live.

Counselors were always ready to help students

The addition of a freshman class this year meant more registering, more scheduling, and, seemingly, overall confusion. However, our relatively small counseling staff, headed by Mr. Purcell, did an excellent job in handling so many students. Mr. Nielson, Mr. Roberts, and a new counselor, Mrs. Yawn, divided the students according to the alphabet, and soon became aware of each student's needs. Mr. Purcell, as college counselor, offered invaluable advice to many juniors and seniors who needed guidance on how or where to apply for college. Mr. Purcell also was in charge of the large ROP Program at Savanna.

Assistant Principal Dunn new to Rebel campus

This year has been one of great changes for Savanna; there was tremendous growth and expansion in becoming a four year high school. One-half of the student body was new and one-third of the faculty was involved in a new and challenging situation.

The vast majority of Savanna's students have adjusted well and the year has been an enjoyable and worthwhile educational and "living" experience for most everyone. I am personally very happy to be a part of Savanna and I look forward to a long relationship with a really fine and talented group of students and faculty.

The best of everything to all of you, especially the seniors, who are leaving for new, exciting and different experiences.

Savanna High is another milestone in the lives of each of you. You seniors will now go out into a world entirely different from what you have faced up to now. Our school has done what it can to prepare you but now it is up to you to make your mark. Will you be one of those who gives to his fellow humans or who takes from them, a giver or a taker. You will soon be facing these decisions which will head you up towards success or drive you down to failure.

Each year we are sorry to see a class graduate, but we also feel joy in that we know the quality of this class of '81 will eventually bring more honors and tribute to Savanna than any other class. With their willingness and leadership qualities, our nation will gain much.

Good luck class of '81,

ORGANIZATIONS

Sky-high spirit created by Pepsters

With Tracey Gifford as it's president, this year's Pep Club was one of the best ever. This year's group had the largest membership in recent years, and became involved in most every aspect of student activities at Savanna.

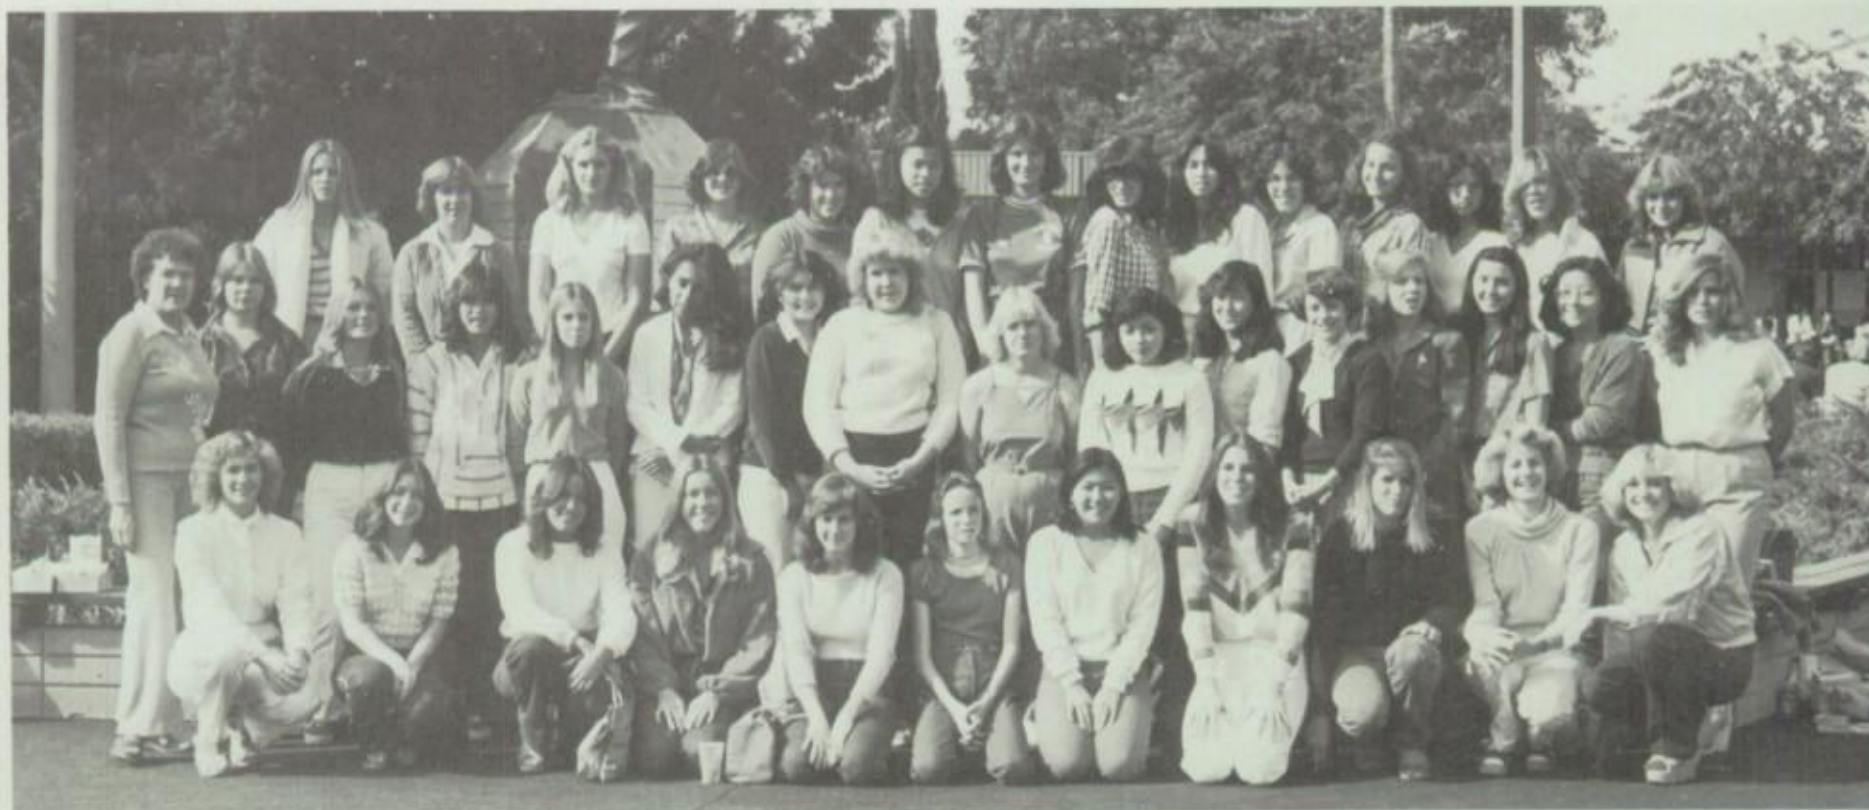

During football season, sign painting parties and the sponsoring of secret pals for the football team were two of the club's biggest activities. The signs added a spirited atmosphere to Rebel Territory, and the special gifts and notes of encouragement from secret pals helped the team members to keep trying during a tough season. Transportation to and from games was never a problem for club members. The group had it's own car pool, and rides were furnished whenever needed.

This year, in addition to the traditional Spirit Week which was held in March, a three day mini Spirit Week took place in February. The Boys' and Girls' basketball teams, along with the wrestling team received surprises from secret pals. A special assembly was also held in honor of these teams.

The Homecoming mum sale was a huge success again this year, and in addition, the club held a "Balloon for Your Buddy" sale in February and a chocolate bunny sale in April. The profits from these sales helped to pay for Spirit Week and the many other activities that were sponsored by Pep Club this year.

School spirit is contagious, and Pep Club proved the fact. Through their hard work and dedication the members instilled a greater sense of Rebel Pride in themselves and the whole student body.

Songleaders added spark and spirit to squad

Upon starting the year fresh with no returners, the 80-81 Varsity Songleaders enjoyed one outstanding year. After presenting Savanna with a superior trophy from camp, they went on to support their teams with pride and flair. At assemblies they performed complex routines and cheered the crowd on with spirit and enthusiasm. During their sixth period class, along with Varsity Cheer, they made up skits for pep assemblies, and practiced chants and cheers for games. They held a cheer clinic, which was one of their major fund raisers, and had a kiss-a-pig contest. Under the leadership of Mrs. Landgraf these songleaders did one excellent job!

Cheer added pep and enthusiasm to campus!

1980-81 Varsity Cheer Squad was nothing less than an enthusiastic group of girls. They attended a summer camp and proudly presented Savanna with an excellent trophy. They attended all boys' and girls' athletics, and at pep assemblies, they performed and urged the crowd to promote Rebel Pride. With help from their advisor, Mrs. Landgraf, and along with Varsity Song, they held many fund raisers, including a cheer-athon, ticket sales, and car washes. This spirited group of girls certainly made the year of 80-81, one exceptional year!

JV magnified Rebel spirit!

This year's J.V. Cheer Squad were the first to cheer for Savanna's freshmen. With the incoming class, these girls attended freshmen-sophomore games, as well as J.V. games. During football season, they also attended Varsity games. At the homecoming game, they sold red and white balloons. During December they sold calenders along with Varsity. During assemblies, they helped to support the class of 84 as well as 83. Practicing during sixth period, they learned to perfect their skills. They did a GREAT job representing Savanna!

Mighty Marching Rebels 80-81

Band enjoyed spectacular year

Performing in their traditional style, the Mighty Marching Rebels transformed 1980-81 into another exceptional year. Participating in four parades and field show tournaments, the band added many more trophies to their previous list of awards.

After leading the Rebels down Pioneer Boulevard, drum major Delyn Wetzel accepted top honors for the band in the Artesia parade. This was not the only first place rank achieved. The band also received first place in the Silverado Days Parade and the Orange halftime tournament. Other awards earned by the Mighty Rebels included 2nd place in the Antelope Valley Parade and field show, 3rd place in the Mission Viejo parade and halftime tournament, and 5th place in the Westminster Field competition.

When they were not performing, band members spent much time rehearsing their halftime show which included tunes Triumph of the Titans, Way Down Yonder in New Orleans, Enough is Enough, and Night on Bald Mountain.

Wherever they went or whatever they did, the Rebel Band members put everything they had into each of their activities.

Musical renditions pleased audiences

Concert Band, like Marching Band, competed against other school bands. The group went to the Anaheim District Festival and brought back superior ratings to follow in traditional standings.

Under the direction of Mr. Mark Lowery, the band had an exceptional year. Two of the very talented members, Mark Gunderson and Michelle Zola, were chosen for the All-State Honor Band. Ruben Gomez, a freshman, was accepted for the All-Southern Honor Band. Congratulations to these students for their fine performances.

Jazz Band provided unique sound

In the past, Savanna has been known for its fine jazz ensemble and this year's group was no exception. It was hailed by many as being the best in the district. The group participated in many festivals such as Cal State Fullerton's Un-festival and the Chaffey College festival. The effort put forth was immeasurable. The members spent many hours afterschool and on the weekends practicing. All of the hard work paid off as the group accepted many awards.

Dixieland melodies were heard throughout land

Every morning during zero period, the 80-81 madrigals sang up a storm learning harmonized melodies. The group consisted of twenty-two members who earned their position through tryouts. The madrigals were led by Mrs. Vanhorn. Under her leadership they performed at many events including, Holiday in Music, a senior citizen luncheon, Disneyland, and The Garden Grove Lion's Club Christmas Dinner. In March they attended a district festival and, together with Brookhurst, held a combined concert. Their main performance included a vocal jazz festival in Reno, Nevada. Among these talented students were still a group of exceptional singers which called themselves the "Rebel Rowers." This was a barbershop quartet including Ben Bryson, Tom Dearing, Bob Powell, and Ronnie Sbeni. There was a special concert held where these boys were the main attraction. The Madrigals also participated in the Christmas assembly, as well as the Rebel Show. After these fine performances, everyone had to agree that these Dixieland Singers were very outstanding!

Harmony was produced by Concert Choir

Concert Choir consisted of 30-35 people that did things such as a fall concert, Holiday and Music, and a Disneyland performance. Although the choir did a lot of daily performances they also partook in weekend and some weeknight events. The only requirement to be in choir was the desire and willingness to work hard. With the help of Mrs. Van Horn and the officers, President Todd Thompson, Vice President Tammy McCracken, Secretary Sheila Bailey, and Treasurer Scott Robinson, they also did many other performances such as the Rebel Show, a combined concert with Brookhurst J.H., a few festivals, and several other concerts and shows. Concert Choir had a very successful and prosperous year.

They were proudly led by advisor Sandy Ring and head leader Vickie Mee. The Drill Team's showmanship and dazzling uniforms ranked high with the judges, and the percussion dancing helped make the Rebel-Annes such an outstanding group. During their marching season, they were asked to perform at a newly opened Japanese Mall in Los Angeles where Mayor Tom Bradley complimented the drill team on their good discipline and dancing. They also performed at home football games. The Rebel-Annes were real crowd pleasers.

Dedicated, enthusiastic leaders took "toads" to the top

Over the past few years Savanna has built a reputation of having one of the finest Tall Flags and Rifle Corps in the area. This year's group was no exception. With new uniforms that complemented their style and grace, the Flag and Rifle Corps marched through another outstanding season.

Under the direction of advisors Debbie Morse and Debbie Clift, the unit performed at all home football games and participated in various parades and half-time tournaments in the Southern California area. The long hours of practice which were spent perfecting the routines were well worthwhile. The group received many first place trophies along with numerous other awards for their exceptional performances.

At the Artesia Parade, which was their first competitive event of the year, the corps walked off with top honors. First place awards were also earned at the Orange High School Half-time Tournament, and the Antelope Valley Parade and Field Show. In addition to these achievements, captains Sue Cerminar and Berta Lang accepted third place trophies at the Silverado Days Parade and the Mission Viejo Band Revue and Half-time Show. The unit also received a fourth-place award at the Westminster Field Tournament. Besides this lengthy list of competitive events, the girls took part in exhibition performances, such as the Band and Drill Team Spectacular, Anaheim Halloween Parade, Savanna Field Show Tournament, and the Disneyland Parade.

An excellent season was enjoyed by Flag and Rifle Corps, and their fine representation of Savanna should be commended by the entire Student Body.

Girls' League happenings

Starting the year with a large turnout of girls from each grade level, Girls' League was one of the most popular organizations on campus. President Jessica Latumeten, along with other club officers, spent many hours planning activities that were enjoyed by all members. The Junior and Senior girls kidnapped Freshmen and Sophomore girls and took them out for an early morning breakfast. In the month of October, Girls' League sponsored a Ghostie-gram sale. The sale, which was held in order to raise money for the Winter Formal and other events sponsored by Girls' League, was a big hit with the student body. January was by far the busiest month for Girls' League. The Fashion Show and the Winter Formal both took place, and each was a tremendous success. The Fashion Show featured Club and Varsity members modeling the latest in casual and formal wear. The Winter Formal was held at Santa Ana Lodge on January 24. The Dance featured entertainment by "Fat City," and was enjoyed by all students who attended.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The close of another school year is near and a succesful year it has been. The population of the "Rebels" has been enlarged with the addition of the freshman class and the entire student body has surpassed the spirit which has made Savanna so great.

Our Athletic teams have shown their outstanding abilities, and the crowd support has been a positive influence. Much should be said about the strong cooperation between Administration, faculty, and students. This has assured the success of every activity this year.

My special thanks go to Mr. Nielsen, Mrs. Robinson, Mr. Clement and especially my council. You have made a dream a reality.

To the "Class of '81," I wish much happiness and best wishes always.

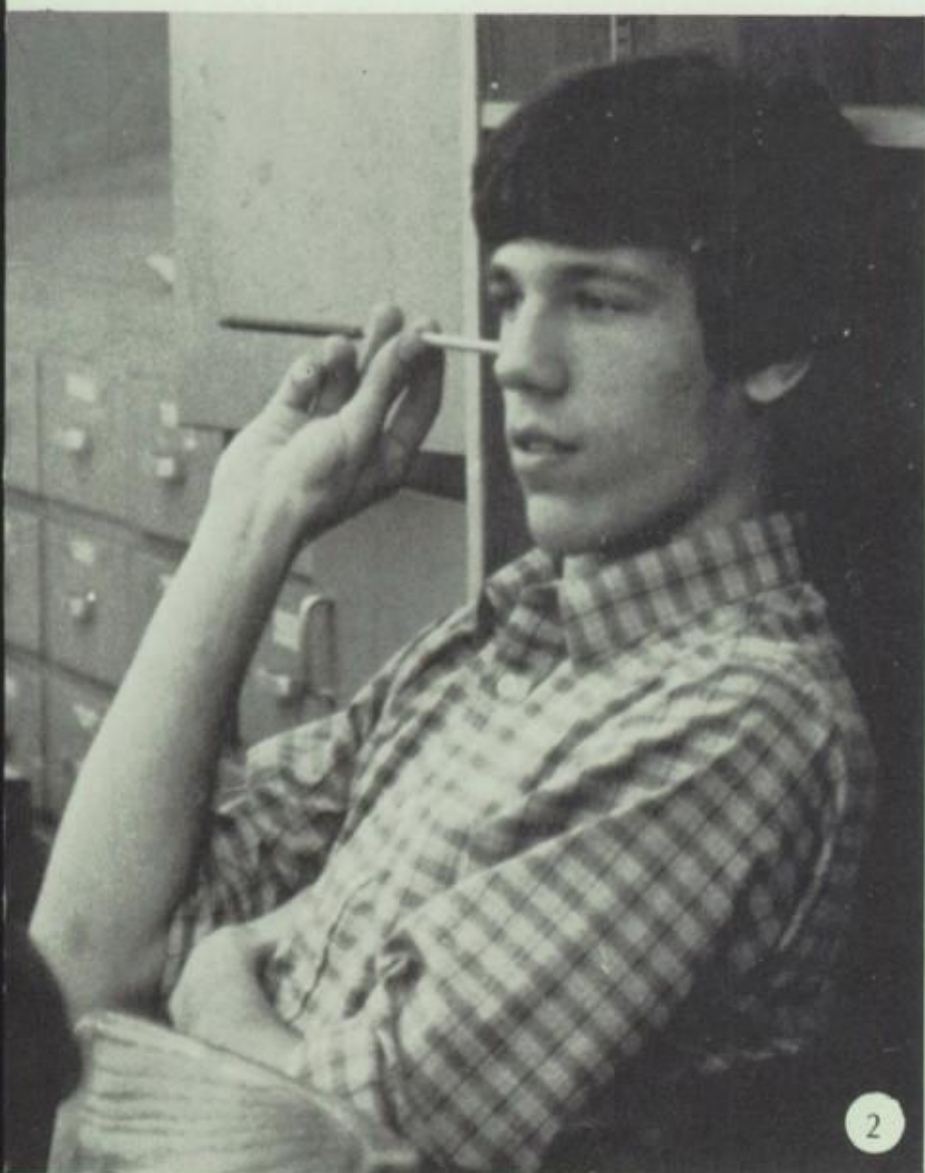

Scott Rhanna

Student Council was on the move in '81

Members of the 80-81 Student Council put in much hard work and dedication throughout the school year. Council spent hours upon hours setting up assemblies, dances, and elections, planning spirit weeks, and holding various fundraisers. Their efforts brought about many of the things that made going to school more than just attending class. The group's main goals included getting the students involved and instilling in them a sense of Rebel Pride.

While each member had their own special duties, Council met as a group during fourth period to accomplish even more. Any problems that arose at Savanna, from a dirty campus to a rained-out Powderpuff game, were discussed and solutions offered. Council tried to become aware of students' needs and held open meetings in which students could state their opinions.

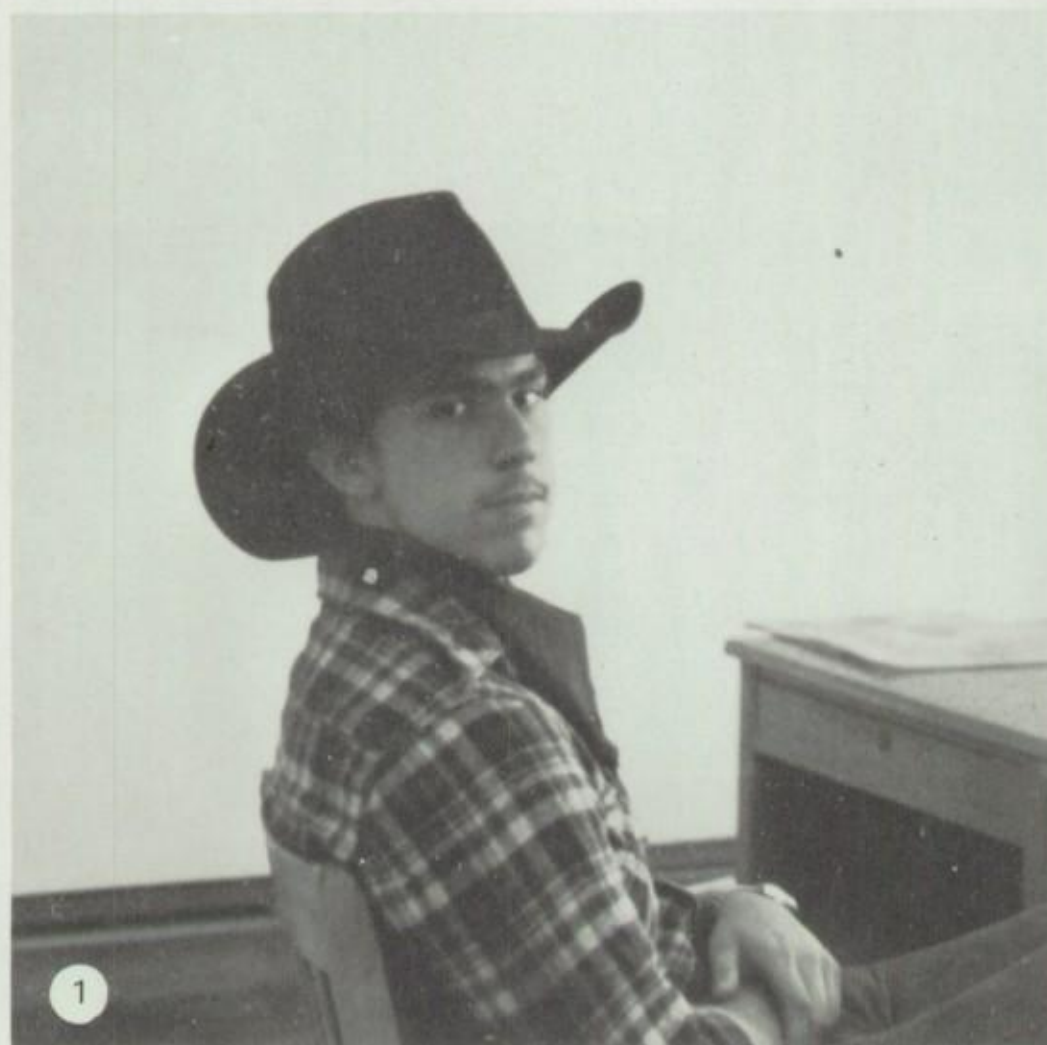

The guidance of activities director, Mr. Clement, was a great asset to the council. As a newcomer this year to Savanna, he brought with him fresh ideas on improving activities, and initiated Savanna's first Kiwanis Tournament. With Mr. Clement as their advisor, and Mrs. Robinson and Mr. Nielsen helping in every way they could, things ran smoothly for Student Council. However, it was their own determination that let them realize their goals. Congratulations on a fine year, Council.

Congress showed initiative

Savanna's Student Congress was a very important organization. They were the link between Savanna's students and our leaders. Congress consisted of a representative from each of the first period classes. The representatives attended meetings and then reported the important happenings to their class members. This year's president was Tim Albaugh. The office was later taken over by Darryl Smith when Tim was selected for the Foreign Exchange Program. The student Congress sponsored the United Way Fund Drive which was a huge success. Both presidents did an excellent job.

Do you know the mass of a light particle, the name of the smallest sea in the world, or who was the youngest pitcher to throw a no-hitter in the major leagues? Questions like these, on over a dozen subjects ranging from anatomy to religion, were asked of students during an inter-school Kiwanis Bowl Tournament. Thirteen clubs entered in the tournament, which was held in the auditorium in January. Hundreds of spectators showed up to cheer on favorite teams, and the suspense and excitement was high throughout the contest. The Band team emerged the final winners, after beating out CSF in the last round.

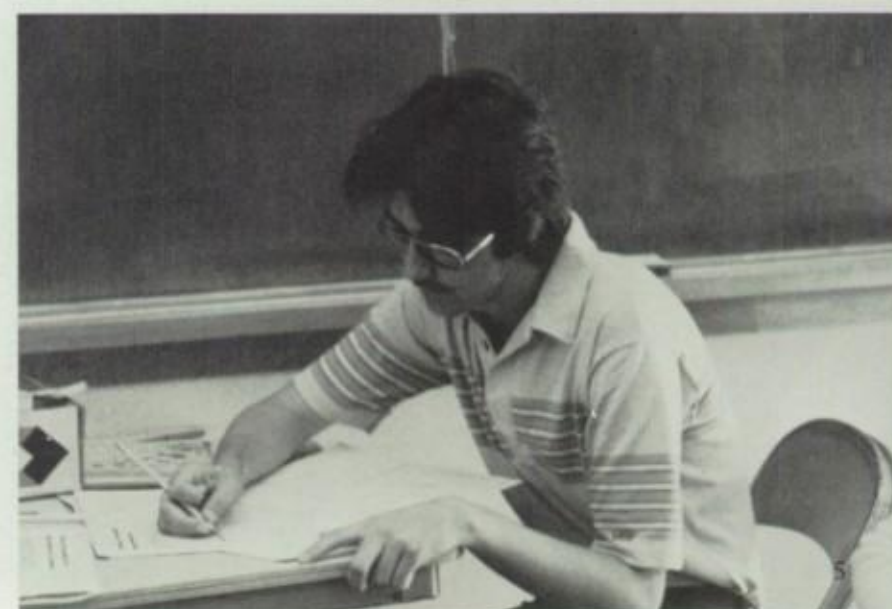

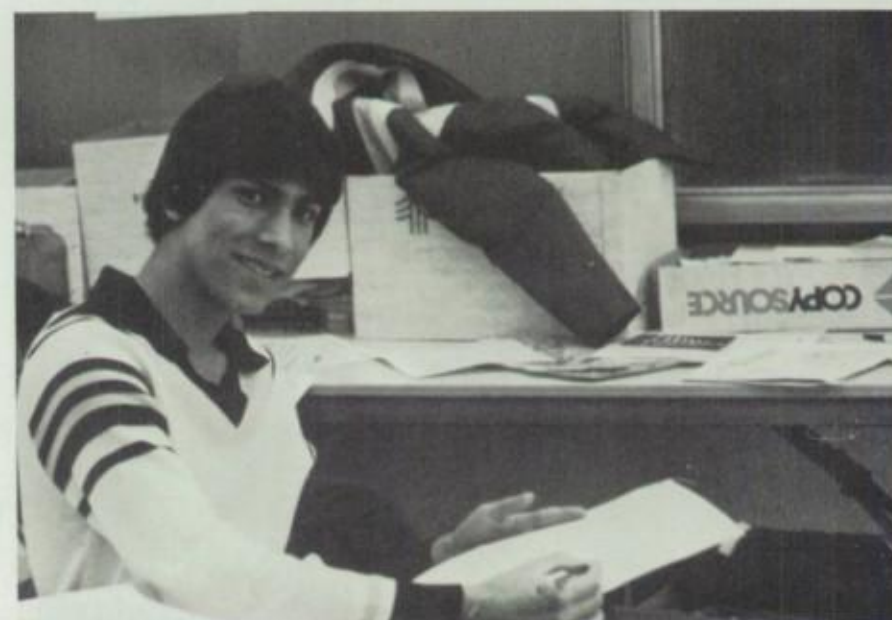

The tournament was actually a selection process for a school Kiwanis team. Ten students were chosen and participated in a county-wide competition.

Literary talents were shown in Dispatch

Each day, during second period, a small group of students would meet, and strive to produce a top-rate newspaper that would inform and entertain the Savanna student body. Under the supervision of advisor, Mrs. Cecilia Tate, and the leadership of Editor in Chief, Tony Ortega, the Dispatch staff of 1981 was able to achieve its goal. Throughout the year, staff writers researched various subjects and transformed their thoughts into written material for the Dispatch. Each of the six issues of the newspaper brought Rebels up-to-date on school sports and activities and, frequently, national and world events. Questions were posed as staffers expressed their views on such controversial subjects as a mandatory draft and the prospect of an open campus. Concert, music, and movie reviews were another feature of the paper that interested readers.

Staff member Gary Kuhn took all of the photos used by the Dispatch, while first-year member, senior Paul Carey, did all of the artwork. Through the hard work and combined talents of its members, the Dispatch staff was able to live up to the high standards set by previous staffs.

Sa-Rebs aided Savanna in many ways

Eighteen girls on Savanna's campus interested in serving the school and the community, were the dedicated members of the 80-81 Sa-Reb Club. Although the organization's membership has slowly been decreasing over the years, this year's group proved through its many activities that the spirit of giving and helping characteristic of Sa-Rebs was going strong.

Led by President Donna Stroba, the Sa-Rebs started the year by raising funds through their traditional and very successful See's sucker sale. With the money they earned, the members provided a Thanksgiving food basket for a needy family. During vacation, Sa-Rebs spread their holiday cheer to the lonely, by caroling through the halls of local convalescent homes and a children's hospital. Besides these special activities, club members volunteered afternoon and weekend hours to assist at the nearby Braille Institute each week.

Helping out at school functions such as Back-to-School Night and the Rebel Award night was another important job of Sa-Rebs. As they had fun while helping others, the club also took time out to enjoy their own get-together, such as a club skating party. The girls, with the help of Mrs. Tate, their advisor, were to be commended on a successful year.

School aids of Savanna grew bigger and better

Some of the hardest working students at Savanna were the school aids. With the help of school aids, many important tasks got done more quickly. This gave the classified staff and teachers more time to do their jobs efficiently.

Clerical aids and teachers' aids were two types of aids found on campus. Working in the various offices, clerical aids performed such duties as filing, answering phones, and delivering messages. Another important duty of a clerical aid was to take new students on a tour of the campus and make them feel welcome. Without the help of aids, running an office was next to impossible.

When things were piling up everywhere a teacher could always count on his aid for help. Teacher's aids were willing to give assistance with almost anything. Correcting papers and running off copies of worksheets or tests were some of the many daily chores performed by teachers' aids. With the help of an aid, a teachers' job became much easier. All of the hard work and assistance given by the school aids was gratefully appreciated by the faculty and administration of Savanna.

Serving the community was fun with Interact

Sponsored by the Rotary International, the Interact Club performed many volunteer services for Savanna and the entire Anaheim community. Although the club members received no pay for their many hours of hard work, the satisfaction of helping others more than compensated for the efforts put forth.

A Pancake Breakfast which was hosted by the Rotarians was the first event of the year for Interact. Ready and willing to make themselves useful, club members served food and drinks, waited on tables, and had a great time in the process.

In addition, to the pancake Breakfast, students involved in Interact assisted at the Braille Institute, made Easter Baskets for the children at CHOC, and helped out at various community functions throughout the year. Each of these activities proved to be a fun and rewarding experience.

1981 was an exceptional year for Savanna's Interact Club. The hard work and dedication of club president Paige Shedlowski and the entire membership of this fine organization will always be remembered.

Inter-Club Council kept presidents informed

A small yet significant organization on Savanna's campus was the Inter-Club Council. ICC was made up of all the presidents of the various clubs and organizations at Savanna, and its main purpose was to keep communication open between these groups. Co-Presidents of ICC, Cassandra Molloy and Michelle Zola, organized the meetings and the traditional canned food drive, along with taking charge of Rebel '81 productions. A new activity sponsored by ICC was a lunchtime club carnival. At this time, clubs were given the opportunity to recruit new members, by distributing information from booths set up in the quad.

Rebels planned ahead in Business Club

Business Club let students of Savanna that wanted more business skills get them by competing with other schools throughout the state. To be able to compete they would have to learn new kinds of business skills that they thought other schools didn't know too much about.

The members tried to attend at least 2 conferences. At the first conference students would compete, attend workshops, and do other things to help them. The second conference was for the state, where section winners compete and state officers were elected. At the final of the competitions they had an award banquet that was similar to the Academy Awards.

Science club sparks interest

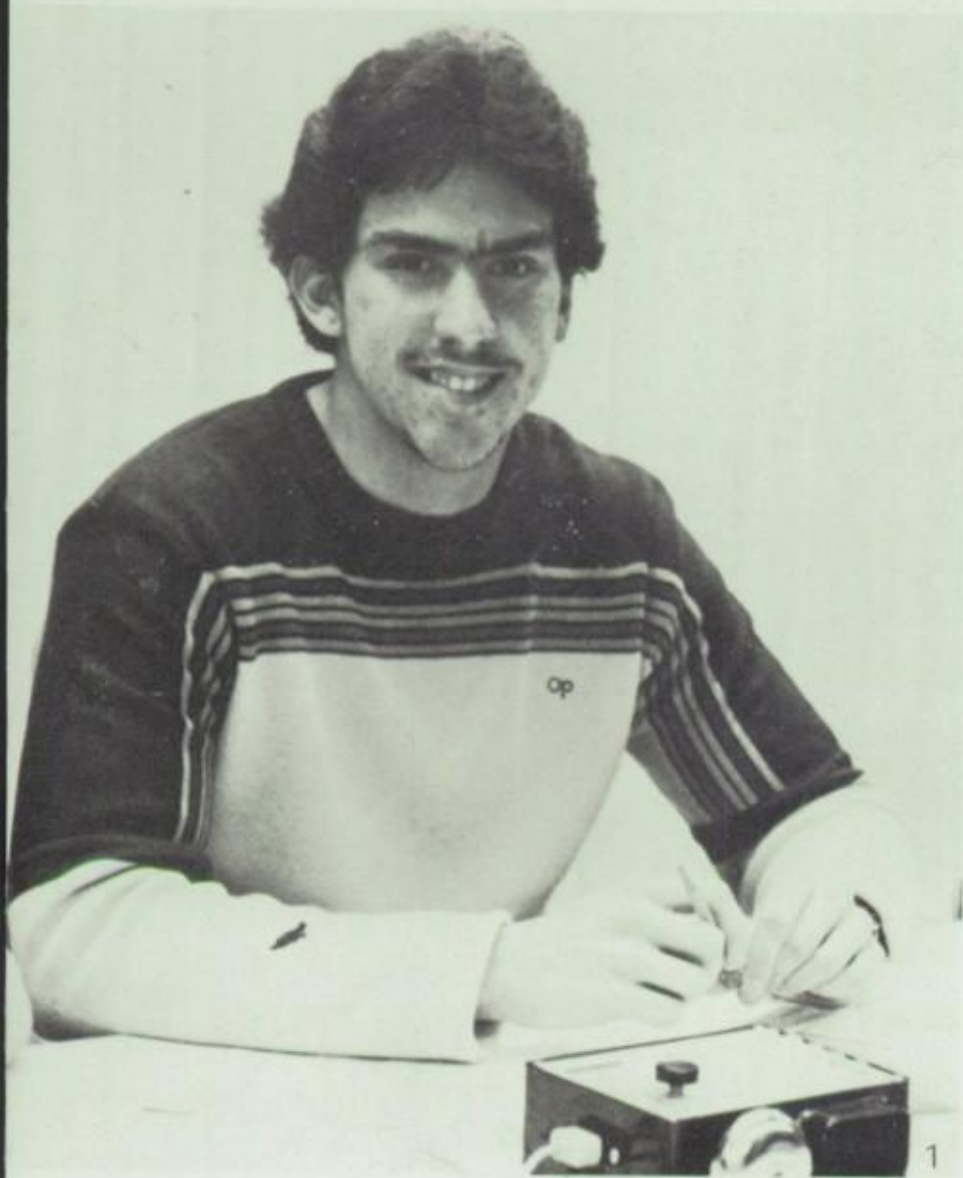

With Mr. Brown as their advisor and Grant Ruiz as president, Science Club had a larger membership this year than in many past years. Any student with a 2.0 grade point average could join, and members soon found that there was much more to Science than just test tubes, microscopes, and homework.

A trip to Newport beach for Whale Watching was the groups' main outing, but they also participated in many other science oriented activities.

Each year the Science Department honors its top students in such classes as chemistry, physics, biology, and physiology. It is the responsibility of the Science Club to update and maintain these award plaques.

Although science is a difficult subject, Science Club members proved that it could also be fun and interesting.

CSF made a big comeback in 80-81

With a membership twice the size of last year's, the California Scholarship Federation at Savanna enjoyed a very active and prosperous year. The club offered its 60 members (all of whom maintained a G.P.A. of at least 3.5) a chance to earn scholarships, awards and other recognition at graduation. Fund raisers included a carnation sale, a sucker sale, and a tutoring service offered to the student body. Club president, Grant Ruiz; vice-president, Sheila Garcia; treasurer, Claudia Michelli; and secretary, Carol Walston, all contributed to the club's success. The club's dedicated advisors were Mr. Koskela and Mrs. Dutch.

NHS promoted academic excellence

National Honor Society was an organization open to any student who had attained a GPA of at least 3.0 in the preceding semester, and had been judged on citizenship and approved by the faculty. The club met monthly to plan several trips to various plays and musicals. NHS scholarships were awarded to deserving members at the end of the year, when they held their annual Honors Banquet. This year's NHS also organized an induction Banquet for incoming members.

Foreign exchange students promoted world friendship

Savanna's campus was graced with not one, but two foreign exchange students this year. Outi Ehrola and Carrick Robinson came to us from the countries of Finland and Australia respectively. Although they found our lifestyle quite different from theirs, they both adapted quickly and became active students at Savanna. Outi became a member of Pep Club and CSF. Although English was her second language, she took CP English. Outi was involved in the Youth for Understanding program. Carrick, a former rugby star, played Varsity football and was a member of Student Council. He came to America as an AFS student.

1. Foreign exchange students, Outi and Carrick, enjoyed their school-term in Rebel territory.

People here are more friendly than in Finland. In Finland, we are very shy; we don't talk as much to unknown people as you do in America. I like your style of living, and most of all, your school system . . . All of my teachers are very friendly to me. They help me if I have some problems and so on. . . . It's kind of hard for me to express myself. One thing I'm sure about is that I'm glad to be in the USA, in California, and especially in Anaheim. And in such a nice school as Savanna. Outi

Being in America is a totally different experience. The school system here is far more relaxed, with less discipline than what I'm used to. Teachers are very informal in their approach and have helped me tremendously in adjusting. Sports-wise, the school is spirited, but I've never seen as much inter-school rivalry.

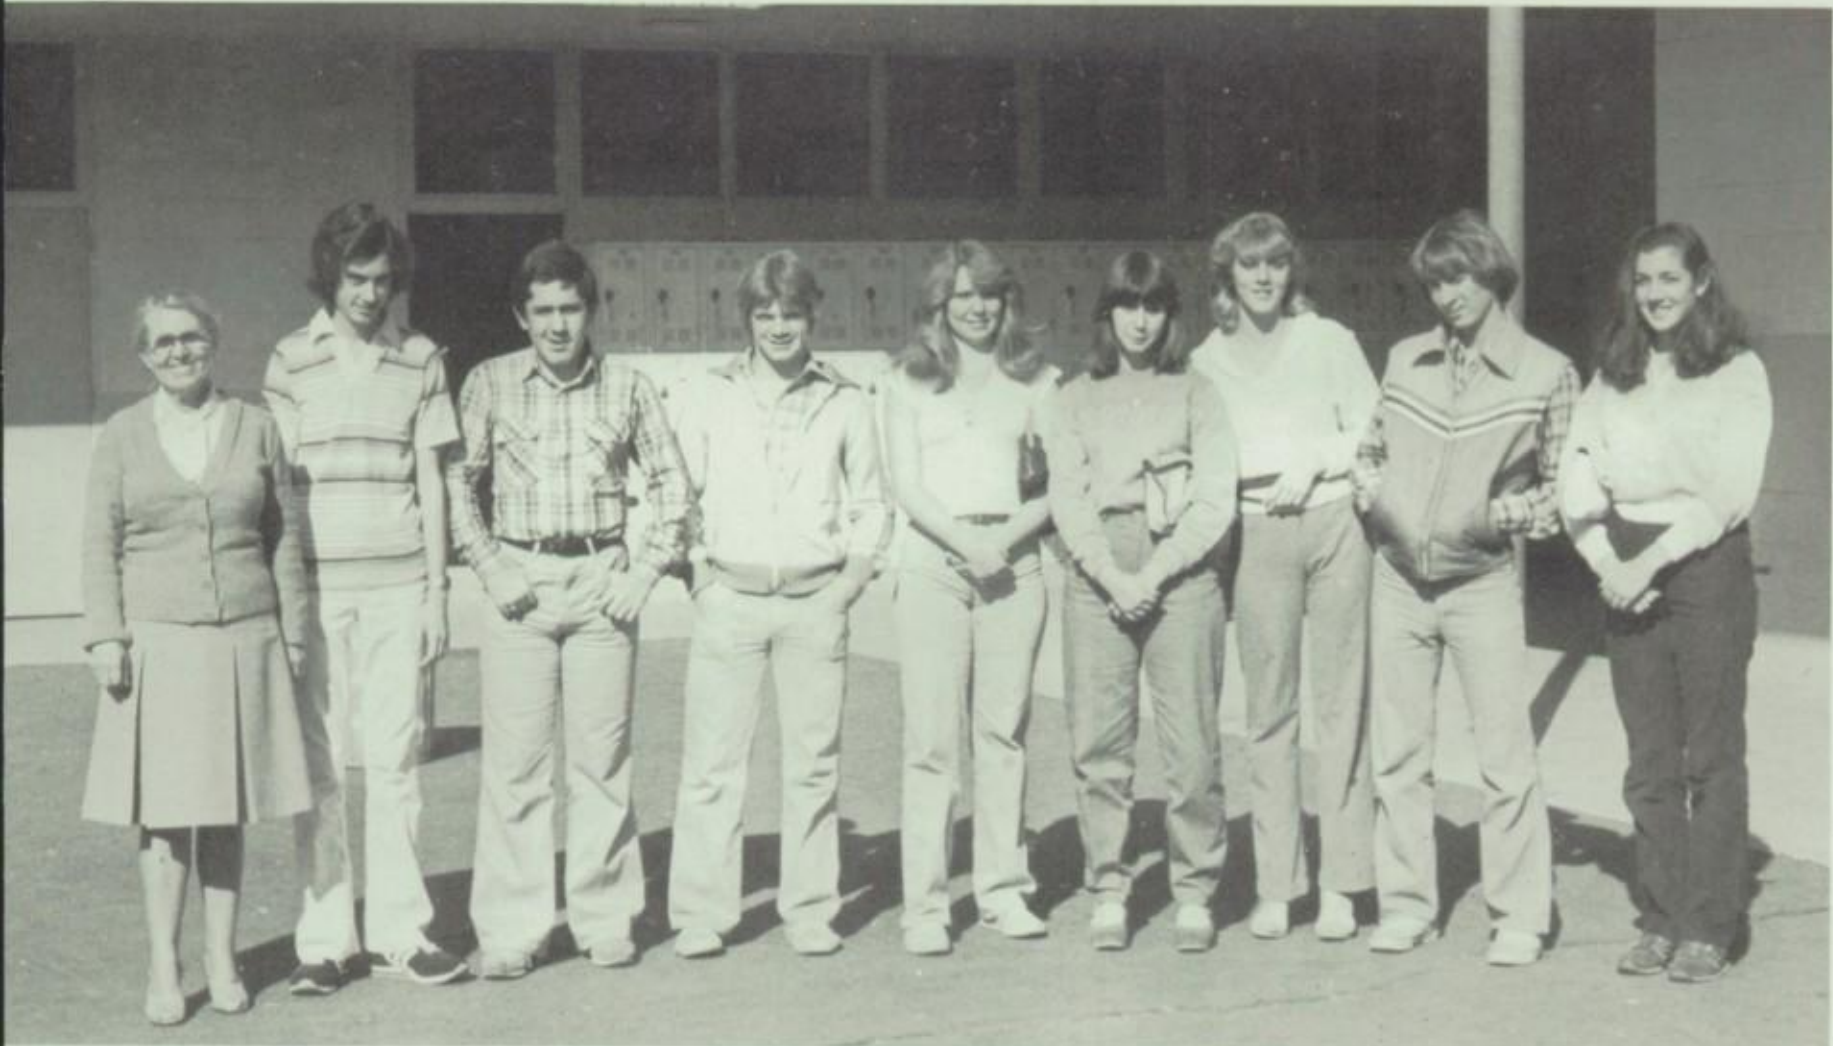

I have enjoyed very much being at Savanna. I will always benefit from the experience, and strongly recommend people at this school to consider an exchange program. Carrick

International club experienced new cultures

After a one-year absence, the International Club was revived on campus. The club was advised by Mrs. Dockery. Its officers included President Molly Scharlach, Vice-President, Debbie Lill; Secretary, Peggy Utley, and Treasurer, Kristen Dragomen. Students involved in this organization held monthly meetings and learned about far-away lands. International Club members also entered a team in the Kiwanis Bowl Tournament, which was held in January.

President Molly Scharlach's enthusiasm and interest in foreign countries led her to reinstate the International Club at Savanna. 2. International Club: Mrs. Dockery (advisor), Mike Barnes, Mike Cota, Chip Burns, Dianna Veale, Peggy Otley, Debbie Lill, Rich Noble, Molly Scharlach

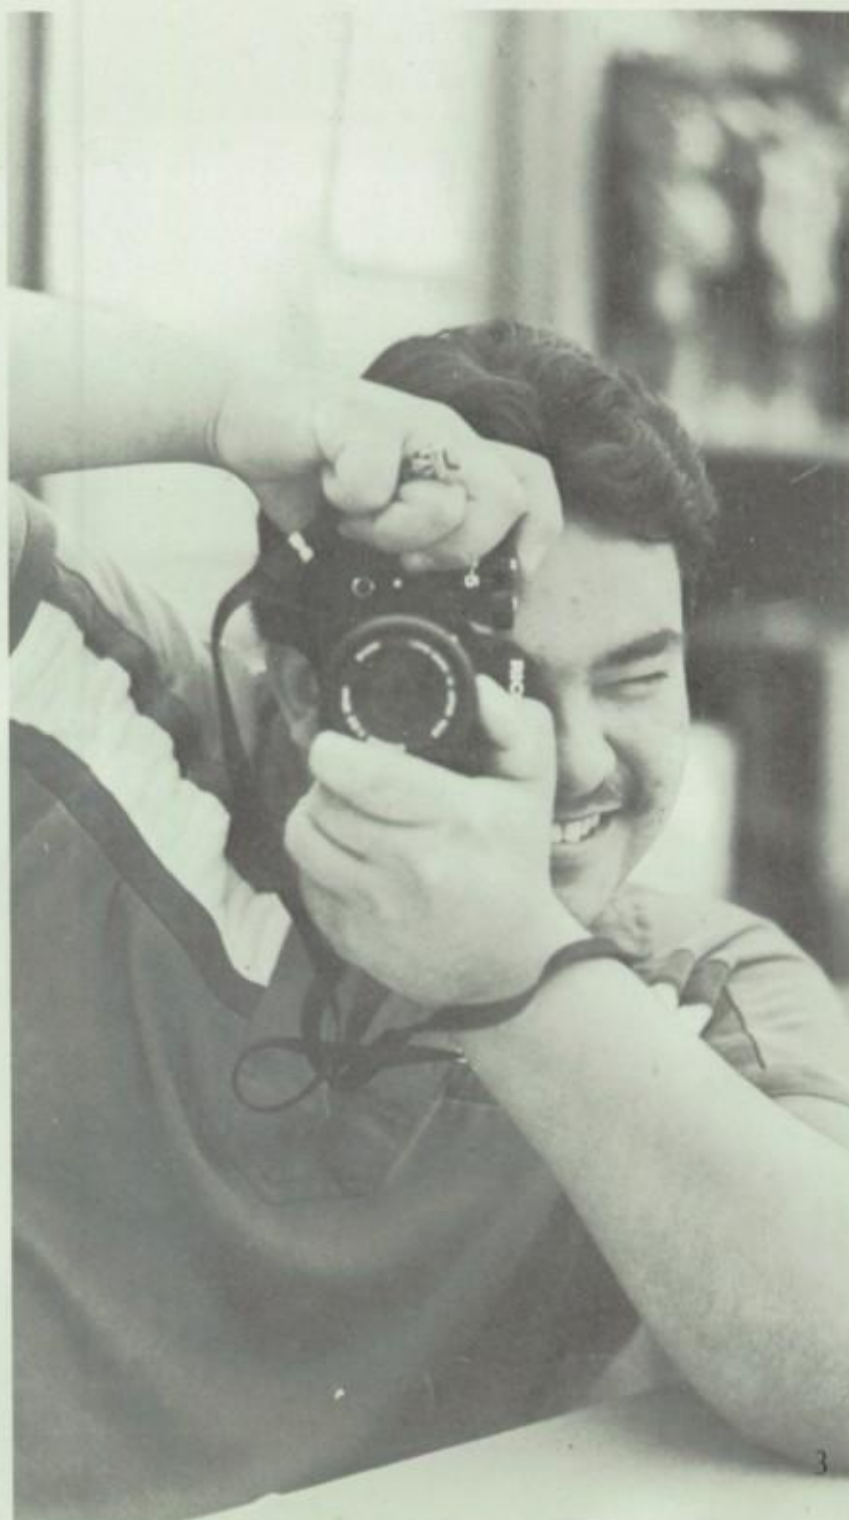

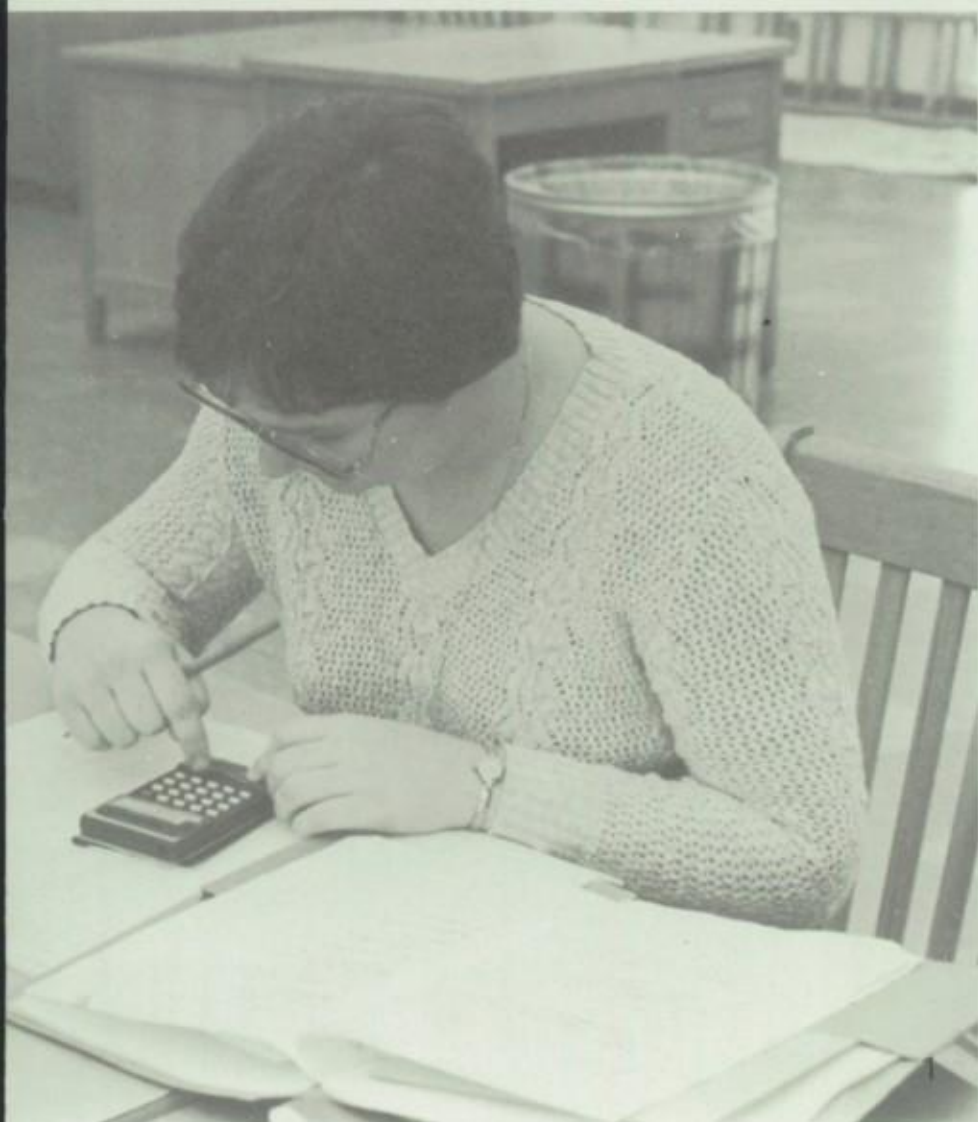

Yearbook put it all together!

Creativity, patience, and dedication were just a few of the qualities displayed by the staff of the 1981 SAVANNAN. Class members realized that a yearbook was more than just a picture book. They knew that every organization was equally important, and much care was taken to see that the activities of every club were mentioned.

Quality in photography, graphic design, page layout, and copy writing were all vital aspects of this publication, and every effort was made to ensure that the 1981 SAVANNAN was everything that it could possibly be.

1. Freshman staff member, Anette Goodwin, concentrates on producing top quality copy for the SAVANNAN.
2. Staff Members: Lynn Bawelkiewicz, Arlene Bracero, Kathy Callen, Jean-nie Clark, Val Collins, Lisa Di Benedetto, Mary Foley, Kathy Fowlkes, Richard Franco, Anette Goodwin, Linda Lukens, Nancy Parcher, Paul Raber, Marc Schawula, Mike Schloffer, Michelle Stodolka, Todd Trevett, Andrea Woody.

2. Paul Raber and advisor Mr. Cunningham, discuss the possibilities for the cross country layout.
3. Head photographer Richard Franco, along with other staff photographers, was always ready to catch an unsuspecting victim.

Dramatic productions were successful

Drama was under the instruction of Miss Candice Heidenrich. Their agenda planned for four productions during the course of the year. Most of seventy students participated in the first production "Woody Allen is Dead and Living in Tara Hills." The rehearsals and productions were worked on after school as class time was devoted to theatrical exercises which would benefit everyone in the class. Attendance was larger than expected for the performances, which was just one way to measure the success of this year's Drama Department.

Ski Utah

With not much snow locally, Savanna students went with Ski Explorers over Christmas vacation to Ski Salt Lake City, Utah, for five days. This so called club was open to any student at Savanna. Mr. Sanders was the organizer at Savanna. Savanna has never really had a ski club, but every year Mr. Sanders has the information for students to go with Ski Explorers, sponsored by the Boys' Club of America.

The skiing in Utah was not what everyone expected due to poor weather conditions. The ski resorts skied at were Alta, Powder Mountain, Snow Bird. Besides the skiing, seeing beautiful Utah was terrific. Everyone was able to enjoy their Christmas vacation skiing in Utah.

Varsity club revived after ten-year absence

The Varsity Club was re-introduced this year to the Rebel campus. Largely through the efforts of President Bill Le Masters and Vice President Tom Beisner, this new club boasted 25 members. At the first meeting, Bill and Tom were elected along with Secretary Darryl Smith and Treasurer Steve Ashe. Plans were discussed for the rest of the year. Their dance, "Holiday Happening" was one of the most successful in years. They also re-furbished the Varsity Team Room. In the school-wide Kiwanis Bowl Tournament, the Varsity Club surprised everyone by finishing in the top three teams. They also put two team members on the district Kiwanis Bowl team. This year's Varsity Club was a welcomed addition on campus.

1. A new emblem was designed for Varsity Club.
 2. President Bill Le Masters and Vice President Tom Beisner were responsible for the reinstatement of the Varsity Team Room.

Business booms for the student store

Like other groups on Savanna's campus, the students employed in the student store were faced with many changes as the school year began. The portable building which housed the store was in need of repairs. This meant that sales had to be conducted from a kitchen-like unit in room 17. The new arrangement was very crowded, but it worked out well on a temporary basis. Sales were started in the original store as soon as repairs were completed.

The passage of a new law which prohibited the sale of "junk food" in public schools brought more unexpected changes to the store. Snacks such as cokes and candy bars were no longer allowed. Instead, they were replaced by such items as nuts, juices and granola bars. Sales were poor when the law first took effect, but as the students became accustomed to nutritional foods profits began to rise again. Mrs. Buchanan was the class' advisor. She did an excellent job of teaching the students how to run the store. They learned the proper methods of taking inventory and stocking shelves as well as how to operate a cash register. The work of the student store staff was appreciated by the student body.

SPORTS

Rebels kicked off the season with a win

After ten long months of getting up at the break of dawn in the mist and fog, the Rebels started their 1980-81 campaign at Bellflower Stadium against the Mayfair Monsoons. Savanna breezed by the Monsoons with a 34-19 victory. Phil Rivera ran for 165 yards and four touchdowns. Not to have the spotlight completely stolen, quarterback Charlie Lucas completed 10 of 13 passes for 156 yards and one touchdown. The only low points of the game were the losses of top linemen John Beisner and Larry DeRuyter. Both players were out for several weeks due to injuries.

Bolsa Grande Stadium was the next stop. The team took on the Vaqueros of Rancho Alamitos. The Rebels scored twice, both on touchdown passes from quarterback Charlie Lucas. One pass was to tight end Al Aguera, and the other to wide receiver Darryl Smith. The Dixie first half pressing surge was not enough to beat the hard hitting Vaqueros. Rancho defeated Savanna by a score of 31-15.

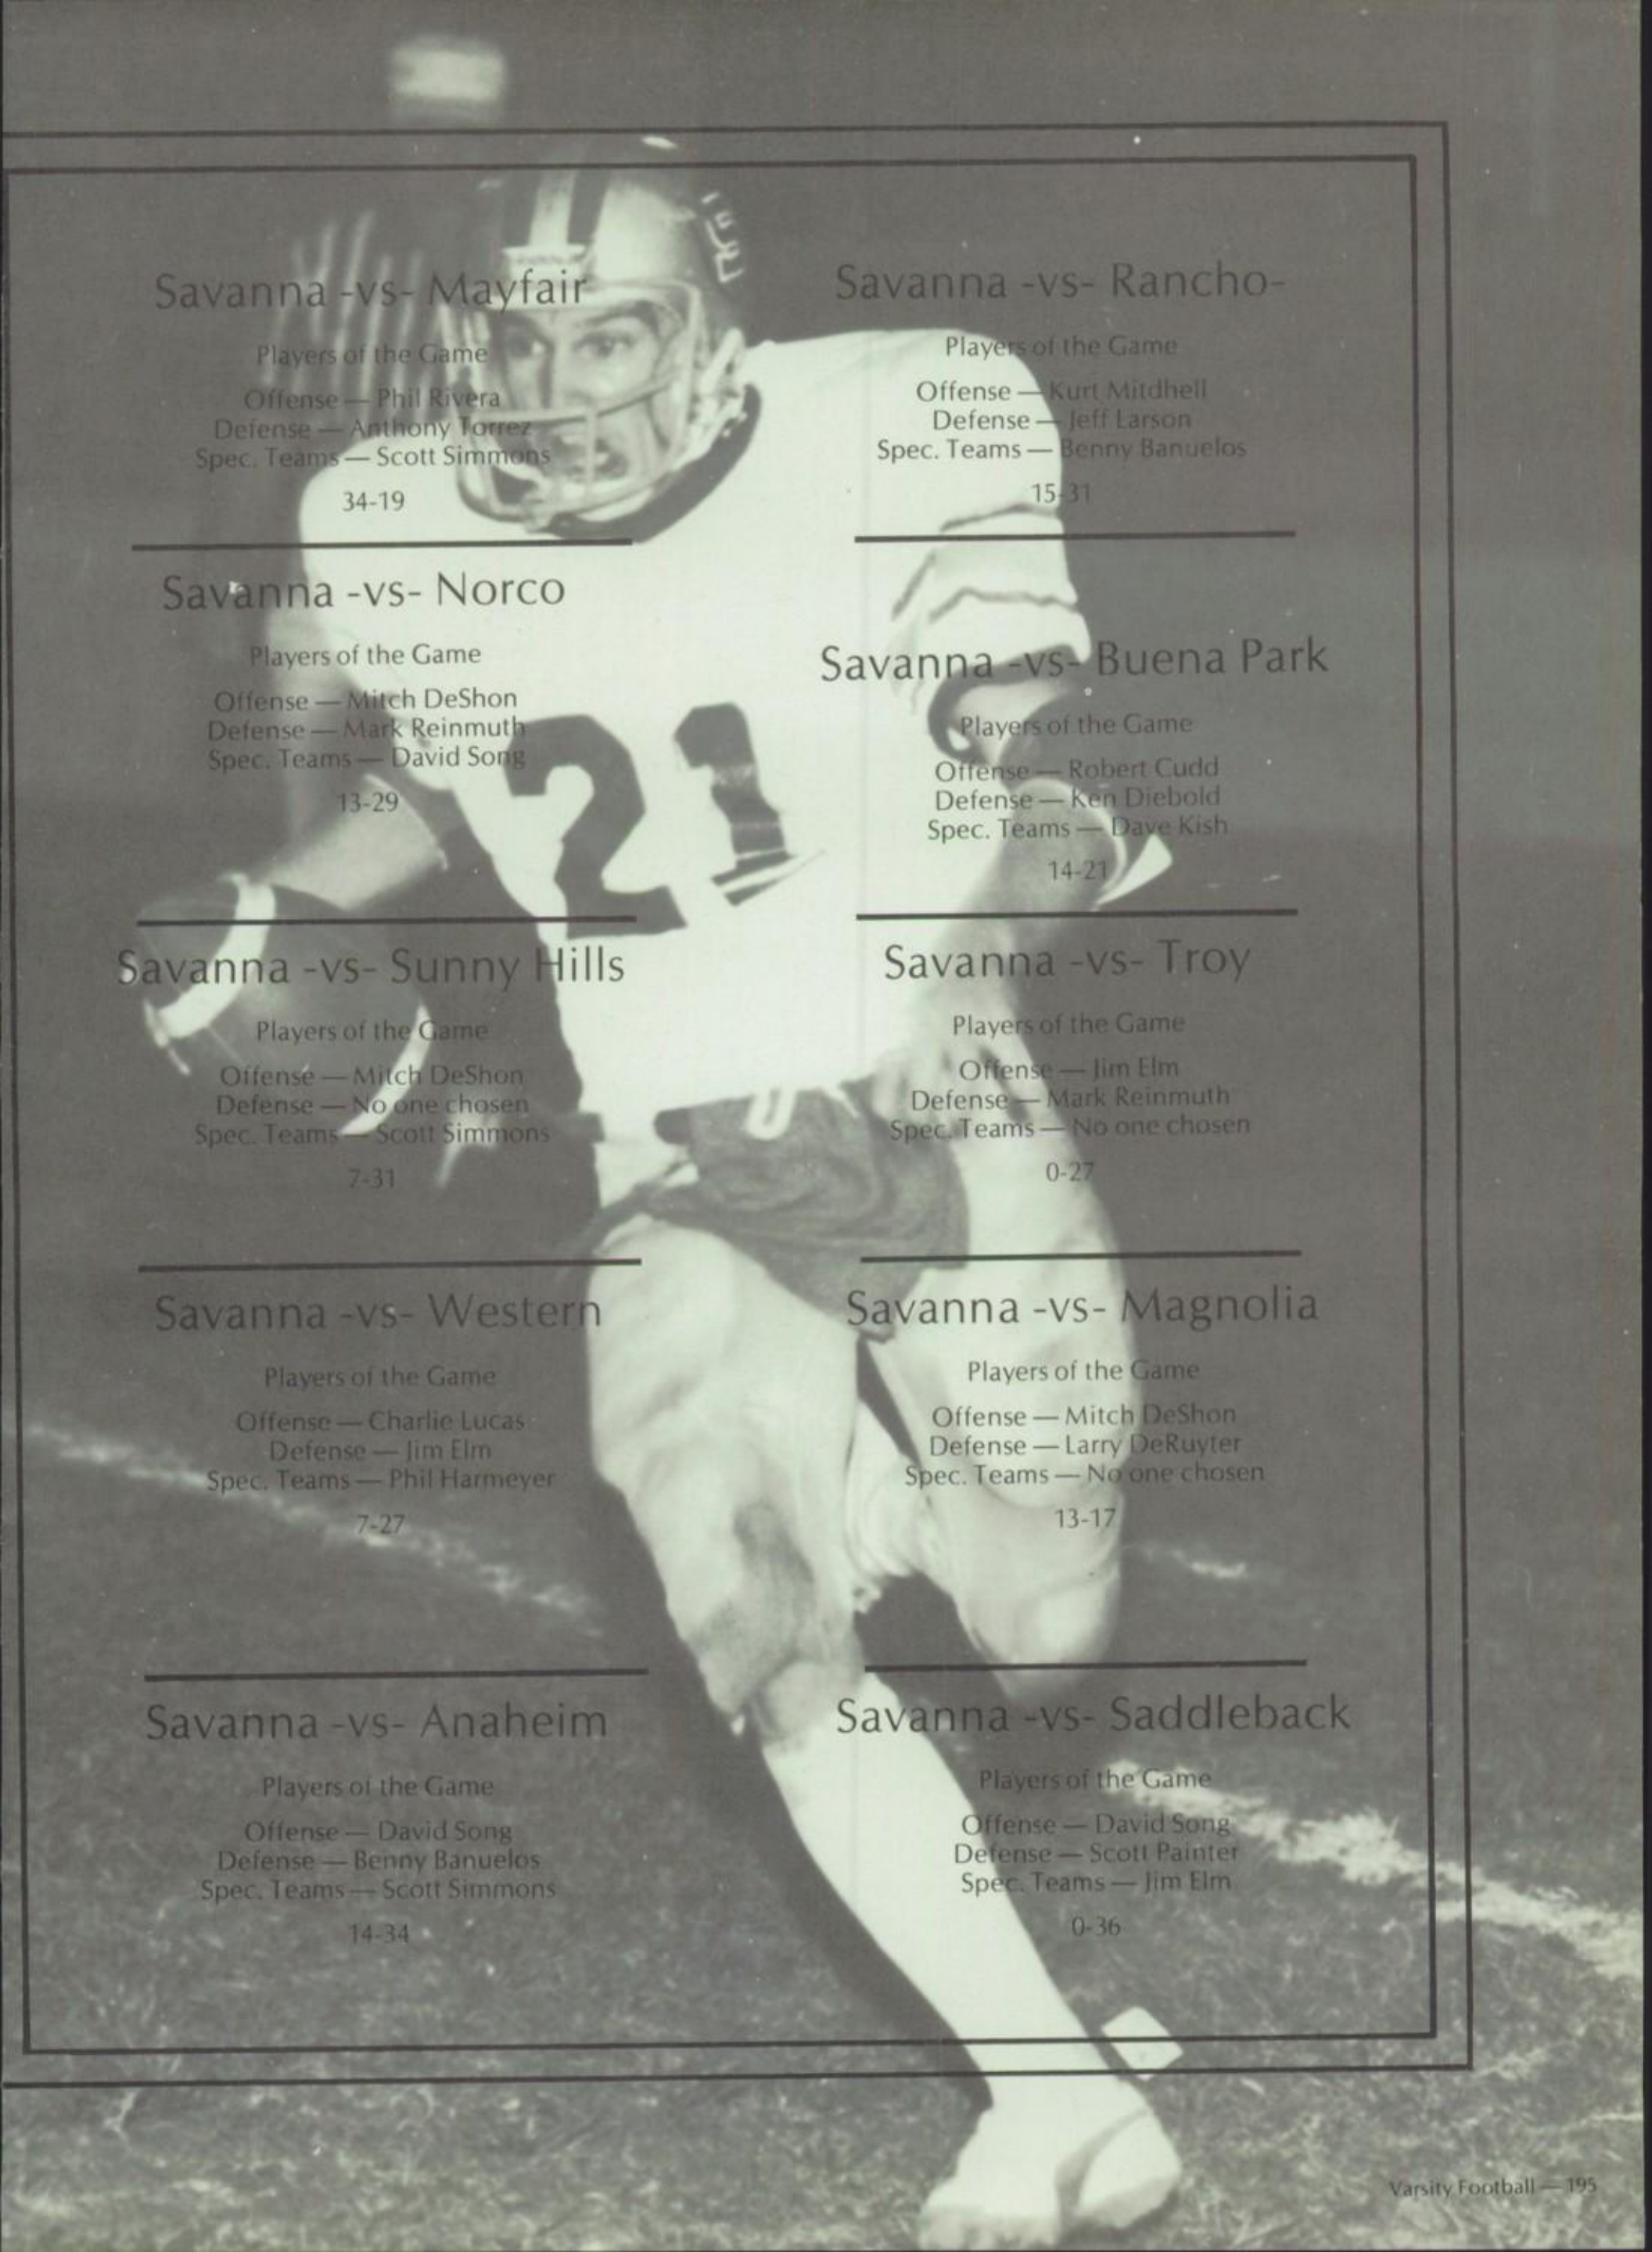

1. Dave Kish punts excellently against Troy.
2. Against Magnolia, Lucas had a terrific running game.
3. Savanna's offense looks tough as they line up against Troy.

Third on the schedule of Savanna's opponents were the Norco Cougars. Phil Rivera accounted for both of Savanna's scores on runs from seven to forty yards. The final score for this game was Norco 29, Savanna 13.

With a record of one and two, the Rebels went into their game against the Buena Park Coyote with hopes of getting back on the winning track. Three minutes into the half the Rebels scored on an eight play drive that covered 67 yard. Rivera was impressive on the drive, scoring on a 24 yard run up the middle. With five minute to go in the half, Savanna scored again; this time on a two yard run by Lucas. Mitch DeShon received a 30 yard pass from Charlie Lucas to set up the Savanna score. In the second half, however, the game turned from a Rebel rout to a Coyote comeback. The game ended at a score of 21-14, Buena Park.

The Sunny Hills Lancers were the next opponents for our Rebels. The highlight of this game was a 73 yard pass from Lucas to DeShon, which proved to be the longest of the season. Leading Savanna defensively was Scott Simmons, who had eight tackles. Perreira, Reinmuth, and Torrez were also strong in this game. The score for this game was Sunny Hills 31, Savanna 7.

This game proved to be a real heartbreaker, as the Rebels failed to score a single point. Although the final score of the game was 27-0, several of Savanna's players made strong showings. Reinmuth was awesome on defense with one recovered fumble, one interception, and 17 tackles. Jim Elm did an excellent job of filling in for injured quarterback Charlie Lucas. Doing a great job on the goal line stand were Bushey, Elm, Larson, Perreira, Pittman, and Valencia.

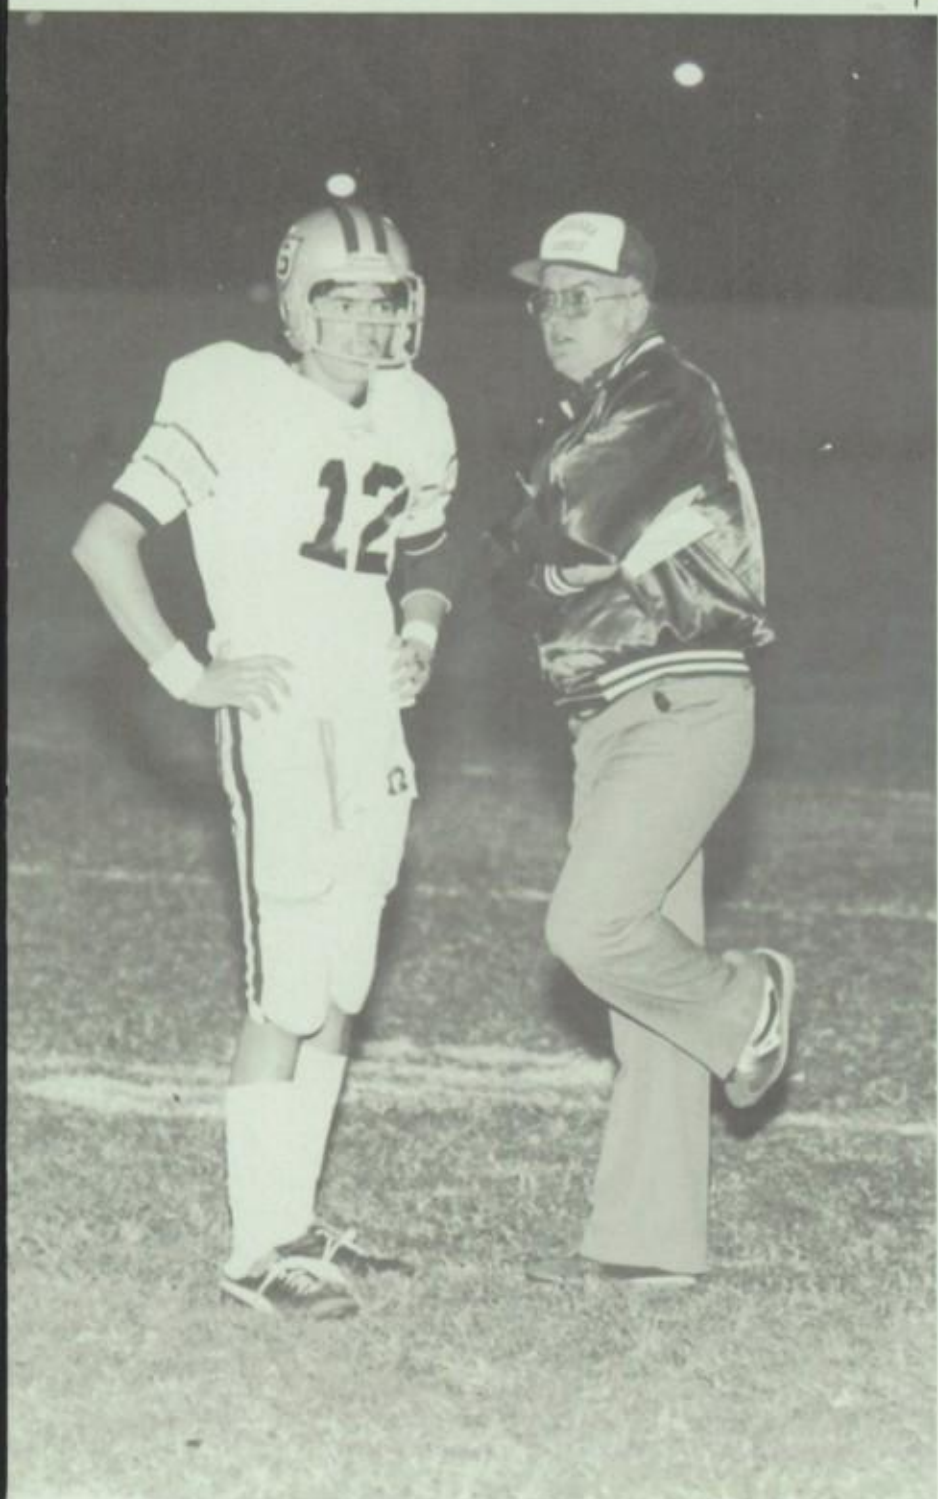

Showing an abundance of spirit and enthusiasm, the team went into the Homecoming Game against Western with visions of victory. These visions were short-lived, however, as the Rebels went down to another devastating defeat. Although the game itself was not impressive, the festive atmosphere and the excitement of the half-time activities served to boost the spirits of the fans. As Homecoming '80 ended, the score was Western 27, Savanna 7.

Glover Stadium was the scene for the game against the Magnolia Sentinels. The spotlight was stolen by Mitch DeShon, who completed 10 of 13 passes, and by Al Aguera, who made four interceptions. With 13 tackles, Fi Valencia was one of the best defensive players of the game. Another outstanding player was Charlie Lucas. He completed 24 of 40 passes, which was his season high.

1. Lucas hands off to Song to gain yardage against Magnolia.
2. Phil Rivera, who caught six passes for 86 yards against Magnolia, spots a hole in their defense.

It was a long season for the Rebels.

With one game left, the Rebels wanted Anaheim, but like many other schools, just couldn't stop Evans. Benny Banuelos, who was chosen all-league second team defensive back, did an excellent job on Savanna's defense. Jim Elm made a touchdown on a 12 yard run up the middle, and Dave Song caught the ball under the Rebel shotgun. This outstanding play was not enough to capture a victory over Anaheim, however, as the game ended with a score of Anaheim 34, Savanna 19.

During the final game of the season, Dave Song ran the ball for many yards, but it just wasn't Savanna's night for offense. Good defensive efforts came from Banuelos, Pittman, Simmons, and Wurm. The final score was Saddleback 36, Savanna 7.

Sophomore football finishes fifth

Various amounts of talent were displayed by the sophomore team in the summer and early fall. Though they had many good players, they did not live up to all expectations. The team placed fifth in the league with a record of two wins and five losses. This year's team captain was Zack Hoferitza, and the most valuable player was Jim Dunn. The coaching staff of George Boberg, Rick Fleager, and Jeff Weiland were outstanding in bringing everything together and deserve much credit for a job well done.

Rebel runners strived for victory

The varsity cross country team, with only two returning lettermen were caught in the midst of rebuilding. Led by Senior Paul Raber, Savanna defeated squads from Western and Magnolia while finishing with a record of 2-5 in league. Senior Hernando Echverry, Juniors Larry Follmer and James Garde, and Sophomore Joe Karnes finished with fast times and high placings in several meets. The J.V. squad ran with varsity during practices and some of the runners moved up to varsity for one or two races. The squads ran from 5 to 9 miles a day. The team did not do as well as had been hoped, but the long-range goal was still the track season. This is Coach Fries last year as coach as he will be retiring after this year. A special note of thanks goes to Mr. Earl Smick, athletic director, whose help in many teams is appreciated.

Rebels showed promise in tournament play

The 1980-81 Varsity Basketball team boasted little experience having only two returning lettermen, Bill LeMasters and Tom Beisner. Around this nucleus coach Tom Gregory built a Freeway League contender. The Rebel cagers improved quickly and after two tough losses posted their first victory against Irvine 63-58 and advanced to the Sonora Tournament Consolation semi-finals. In the semi-finals the Rebels played University and were robbed of a victory on a couple of controversial calls. The Rebels were edged by one, 49-50. The Dixie Basketbblers played their next game at home vs Kennedy. The entire game was played with great intensity. Three technical fouls were called and the game had to be stopped twice due to flaring tempers. The Irish won narrowly 60-63. After a short break the Rebels traveled to the Brea Tournament where they faced the Indians of Fullerton High. The Rebels were ahead the entire first half but fell behind in the third period. After playing "catch up" basketball the entire fourth quarter the Rebels tied the game and sent the game into overtime. In the overtime period the Rebels dismantled the Indians and won the game 75-68. The Rebels lost their next game to a tough Huntington Beach team 37-65. After the loss to Huntington Beach our cagers played the Pacifica Mariners. The Rebels played good basketball and a tough full-court press kept them ahead the entire game. Twenty point performances from both Bill LeMasters and Tom Beisner proved to be just too much for the Mariners . . . Savanna won 63-52.

Rebels posted best record in years

The varsity basketball team opened its 1980-81 Freeway League campaign against Saddleback. The Rebels went in at half time ahead 25-23 behind Bill LeMasters' 21 first half points and David Tiede's half court shot at the buzzer. The Rebels held on to win 52-45. The Dixie Cagers then hosted the league favorite Sunny Hills' Lancers. The Rebels put the Lancers through the wringer with their pressure man defense. The Rebels' shooting faltered and the Lancers outlasted Savanna 34-43. Savanna then traveled to Magnolia where they jumped to an early lead which the Sentinels slowly ate away and surpassed with a fourth quarter burst. Magnolia won 47-52. Bill LeMasters led the Rebels with 19 points while Tom Beisner added 13. Our Cagers then traveled to Western where they routed the Pioneers 79-56. Coach Gregory played the entire team and scores included Tom Beisner with 13, Dave Tiede with 11 and Bill LeMasters added 31 points to pace the Rebels. Savanna then went into the Anaheim game needing a win to sustain play-off hopes. The Rebels fell behind and went into half time down 23-29. After a lively half time pep talk the Rebs played inspired basketball and tied the score at 49 with just under a minute to play. Anaheim's Steve Evans was fouled with 18 seconds left on the clock. He missed his free throw and the Rebels got the ball with 16 seconds left in play. Keith Watanabe passed to Dave Tiede who then passed to Tom Beisner who shot a 15 footer that bounded off the rim and into the hands of Bill LeMasters who put in the fifteen footer needed to win the game as time ran out and the Rebs won 51-49. The Dixie Cagers then hosted the Troy Warriors. The Rebels played very poorly and Troy ran up a big lead that Savanna never narrowed. The Rebs lost 41-66. Savanna then journeyed to Buena Park where balanced offense and solid defense kept the Rebels in control the entire game. Tiede, Beisner, LeMasters and Bensley all scored in double figures. The Rebels were playing their best basketball. Savanna won 59-52. Savanna won its next game over Saddleback 61-51 and found themselves alone in third place. The season was downhill from this point as the Rebels only won one of their last six games. In summary, Coach Tom Gregory said, "The season was a success in that it provided Savanna with an opportunity to make the C.I.F. play-offs for the first time since 1961 . . ."

Skin Heads started tradition

The 1980-81 Jr. Varsity Basketball Team was coached by Savanna alumnus Greg Hoffman. Along with short haircuts Coach Hoffman installed a high pressure defense and a disciplined offense. The junior varsity team was lead by underclassmen Phil Hill, juniors Pete Reinholtz and Scott Bushey. The junior varsity team posted many preseason victories and posted a respectable league record.

Young Rebels played with heart and determination

The Rebel freshmen and sophomore cagers were low on experience but high in spirit. Under the direction of Coaches Garson and Salas, the young rebels were taught the fundamentals and the benefits of hard work. Outstanding players for the team were: Richard Lukens, David Seitz, and Jay Shedlowski.

Frosh Team: J. Lein, J. Otero, M. Taylor, B. Tiege, J. Shedlowski, R. Rheume, M. Grennie, B. Hillenburg, R. Arriaga, M. Urrea, T. Cole, R. Meanym, Coach Garson, B. Sutt, J. Lomanto, R. DeVargas.

Wrestlers rambled on

The 1980-81 Savanna Varsity Wrestling team still recovering from a rebuilding program came up with a very successful season. The team ended up with a 4-6-1 record. The grapplers had big wins over Santiago, Fullerton, and Western.

J.V. Grapplers win with pins

The Junior Varsity and Freshman Sophomore Wrestling teams had much improved seasons. Junior Varsity went 6-5 and big victories in all their wins. A 45-30 defeat over Rancho Alamitos started the season. It was followed by a 41-20 romp over Santiago. Continuing through the season, Savanna defeated Fullerton 38-8, and beat Western badly 45-10. The final two games they won were against Anaheim 40-21 and Troy 42-27.

Rebs ready for future

The Freshman Sophomore team had a disappointing 2-6 record but they built a solid wrestling team, something that's been lacking in the past years. After beating Rancho Alamitos, they suffered a very close one point loss to Pacifica.

1. Freshman Mark Crook is involved in heavy competition.
2. Sophomore Peter Poching working hard on opponent.
3. Steve Williams gets set to go.

Tennis at its best

With many talented players, the 1981 boys' tennis team had a fine season. In addition to Savanna's number one singles player, Paul Gabladon, the team was led by others such as Joel Bonnema, Ben Bryson and Mitch Petras. Under the coaching expertise of Eric Hansen, the Rebels hoped to capture one of the first three positions in the tough Freeway League.

Anticipating a difficult match, the Rebs started their season against a powerful Kennedy team and beat them badly. Throughout the year they played with great determination and practiced diligently for many hours after school.

Unlimited ability

Under the direction of Dean Anderson the junior varsity team practiced alongside the varsity team during sixth period and after school. The players were drilled in such areas as serving and volleying. Team members worked very hard to improve their style in hopes of achieving a spot on the varsity team in the future.

1. Ben Bryson shows his skill.
2. Joel Bonnema puts it away easily.
3. Paul Gabladon aces his serve.
4. Paul Calabrese hits the back-hand with success.

Rebel hopes run high for C.I.F.

Blessed with a line-up that boasted both offensive and defensive power, the C.I.F. Play-offs were again within the reach of the 1981 Varsity Rebel Baseball squad.

Many times after school or during the weekend, the varsity baseball players were found out on the diamond taking batting practice or improving their infield skills. These extra hours enabled the team to meet the competition they were faced with this year from such Freeway League schools as Anaheim, Troy and Buena Park.

Charlie Lucas, an all-league selection last year as a junior utility man, led three other returning lettermen and a host of other big sticks, who averaged four runs per game in pre-league play.

Fine depth was found defensively at every position. Larry Perriera, Steve Green, and Mitch DeShon were dependable for their consistent fielding. Returnee Eric Schram along with Larry Perriera and Don Iasparro were counted on for their outstanding hitting ability.

Head Coach Clint Stark, along with his assistant Coach Tom Gregory, indicated that the Rebel baseball team was more evenly balanced than in the past years and much of the Rebel success would be dependent on their hurling crew.

2. Eric Schram picks up a tough ground ball.

The 1981 Varsity Track Team, with an excellent chance of regaining their Freeway League supremacy, looked as strong as ever. Under the direction of head coach Woody Fries and coaches Doug Hastings, Bob Sanders, and Earl Smick, Savanna was entered into four invitational meets and eight dual meets. In the Santa Ana relays the Rebs came away with many medals; including a dramatic win in the last race, the mile relay. The tracksters dual meet season opened with an inspiring win over Brea, and league opened with the defeat of Buena Park.

This year's optimistic Frosh/Soph team did not lack depth as in previous years. The team was large and talented. Dan Ciminisky, Steve Morikawa, Joe Karnes, Randy DeVargas, Mark Gutierrez, and Steve Kindred earned many points for the squad. Like the Varsity team, the Freshman and Sophomore team demonstrated much talent to have a great season, with a win against Brea and a very close meet with Buena Park.

Varsity volleyball set up for ex- citing season

After getting off to a slow start early in the season, the 1980-81 Girls' Volleyball team captured the second place berth in the Freeway League Standings. Senior Wai Lee and juniors Debbie Drlik and Darlene Trenary led the team to many victories, and were awarded with All-League Honors. Patty Mathias also received an honorable mention for her contribution to the team. Losing to a tough Gladstone team in the first round of CIF play-offs was a disappointment, but with only 3 losses in their 14-game season, the girls had a record to be proud of.

JV volleyball took first in Freeway League

Once again this year, the Girls' J.V. Volleyball team gave the Rebels something to cheer about. Led by Teri Gee, Shannon Leonard, and Sandi Navarro, the girls established a 13-1 record. This record brought them to the top of the Freeway League, and their fourth consecutive championship. Behind every great team there is a great coach, and Coach Crawford is to be commended for helping to make this year's team the best.

1. Shannon Leonard succeeds in completing a bump pass to the opponent.

Cross Country Girls had great turnout

This year girls' Cross Country team, coached by Doug Hastings, was their largest ever. With only Marci Robledo and Vera Maestas returning; the team's original outlook, before the season, was that of a lack of depth and experience. However that was disproved from the start when they beat Cypress in a scrimmage dual meet. Led by Junior Carol Walston, who won the first meet, Savanna finished with a record of 3-5 for the season. The team buried Western and beat Magnolia in a closer meet. Marci Robledo and Jessica Latumeten showed not only leadership, but also, scored many of the team's points. Junior Jo Tennyson, Sophomore Debbie Schmidt and Freshman Leticia Robledo ran in the team's top seven many times.

Tennis has a tough season

This year's Girls' Tennis team developed their talents, skill and physical endurance, into a successful season. The team was young with only a few returning lettermen. Long hours of practicing tennis drills, combined with a willingness to improve their skills, helped them to build a season to be proud of. With Mr. Hansen coaching them, the girls ended their season with a record of six wins and eight losses.

2. Chris Fisher returns the serve with confidence against the strong Troy team.

Personal goals were achieved

Savanna's number one singles player was Chris Fisher, who ended her season with a record of 39-3. This record was the best ever at Savanna. Chris was also the only player in Savanna's history to enter the C.I.F. tennis finals. Girls began bid for CIF spot Coached by Brad Pickler, this year's Girls' Varsity Basketball team proved to be a very dedicated and winning team. Sophomore Darlene Trenary's all-out style of play, provided the team with an aggressive defense and their leading point getter. Co-Captains, Senior Dottie Stowe and Junior Debbie Drlik along with Senior Linda Hacke showed leadership and experience, as the only returnees. Senior Terri Morones, Sophomores Becky Rediess and Cheryl Cristofaro contributed to the team's great season with a steady offense and an effective defense. The team finished pre-season with a record of 5-1. As the first half of their league season ended at 4-3, high hopes and expectations were set for this potential C.I.F. bound team.

She also did well against Freeway League opponents. Chris Makimoto struck out 13 against Rancho Alamitos. The team was highlighted by their defense. At one point, the team didn't give up a run in over 31 innings of play. The team's preseason record was an impressive 4-1-1.

Competitive golf

Sparked by strong individual performances at the tee and on the putting green, the 1981 golf team proved to be strong challengers in the Empire League playing such schools as Los Alamitos, Loara, Kennedy, Cypress and Magnolia. Ray Cross coached them in areas as chipping, putting and tee-ing off.

Badminton swung into action

Although Savanna had a rather small badminton team in the past, this year's team was an exception, numbering 25 people. Under the coaching of Sharon Guthrie, team members played very well during the season. The team practiced for two hours on non-game days and on game days they practiced one hour. The team played schools such as Anaheim, Saddleback, Western, and many other schools in the Freeway League. Some of the exceptional players were the returning varsity lettermen who included John Polikaitis and Bob Cole. Wai Lee, a returning varsity player on the girls' team, led the team in singles play.

Girls aimed for CIF

Starting workouts in February at the break of dawn, the girls' swim team practiced from 6:30 to 7:30 in the morning and from 2:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon. Coach Linn helped them to improve their strokes and speed. Returning swimmers for the Rebels were Janet Dunnachie, Jennifer Freitag, Karen Gustafson, Susan Murphy, Glenda Newcomer, and Jenny Nakamatsu. With these talented girls and many others who were new to the team, the Rebels experienced a season that was filled with success.

Power paced the Boys' Swim Team

Although Savanna had not had a boys' swim team since 1974, the team strived for a comeback this year. Working out alongside the girls in the pool, the main goals of the team members were to improve the quality of their strokes and to improve the quickness in their kicking. Wai Lee named Girl Athlete of 1980-1981

During her three years of participation in the girls' athletic program at Savanna, Wai Lee gained the respect and admiration of her teammates and coaches. Dedication, loyalty, leadership and spirit were just a few of the qualities that earned her the honor of Girl Athlete of the Year.

Wai's athletic achievements began in her sophomore year when, in addition to lettering in JV softball and volleyball, she lettered in varsity basketball. An invaluable team member, she contributed to many victories.

Continued success came to Wai as a junior. She again played on the JV volleyball and varsity basketball teams, and in addition, she added badminton to her list of varsity letters. She was also selected by the coaches as Junior Athlete of the Year.

In her senior year, Wai led the varsity volleyball team to a second place berth in the Freeway League and a shot at the CIF Championship. She also was a member of the varsity badminton team.

Along with her athletic talents, Wai also made a number of other contributions to Savanna. She was active in both Girls' League and NHS for the past two years, and acted as NHS secretary this year. A busy member of Student Council, Wai served the student body as ASB Treasurer for the 1980-81 school year.

Over the past three years Wai Lee set a fine example for her teammates and the entire student body. She very much deserved the title of Girl Athlete of the Year.

1. Wai Lee was selected by the coaches as the Girl Athlete of the Year.
2. Wai's exceptional ability in badminton made her a real asset to the team.

Varsity talent was superb

Gymnastics requires skill and coordination as well as grace and poise. The '80-81 Varsity Team was a good example of these characteristics. With Varsity returners Kathy Clover, Margie Daily, Lyndi Horton, Tammy McCracken, and Su Yruretagoyena, the team went on to have a good season. Some of the outstanding gymnasts were Wendy Thackery, Traci Kunz, and Lanette Salloum. Mrs. Ring, their advisor, said this year's team was stronger than teams in the past, and was a well-rounded team in over-all skill and talent. Congratulations Varsity gymnasts on an outstanding year!

JV gymnasts improved their skills

The '80-81 JV Team tripled its membership this year. The team consisted of sixteen first-year gymnasts who practiced very hard during sixth period and after school to perfect their skills. By the end of the year they had competed in ten meets. Mrs. Ring also coached the JV team on to a very rewarding season.

Rebel-Annes scored high

The Savanna Drill Team performed outstandingly well, placing sixth in military competition and sixth in dance competition at the annual Miss Drill Team Competition at Santa Monica. The Rebels-annes were only a small part of the show which included 6000 competitors. There were 32 states and five foreign countries including Australia, Luthuania, Africa, Canada and Mexico being represented in the competition.

Rebel-Anne Dance Group: Vicki Mee, Gina McCambride, Kim Kotenco, Janelle Sommer, Karen Hank, Molly Scharlach, Suzi Blankenship, Sheila Sherwood, Cindy Davis, Lisa Roberts, Tammi McCracken, Becky Milton, Lisa Harris, Julie Bryant, Sheila Bailey, Kelli Scogfeldt, Greta Miller, Shawn Davis, Laura Gutterrez, Kay Henry.

Drill Team USA Finalist

Talent, grace and a sparkling personality combined to make Vickie Mee a winner. Hours of practice paid off as she brought many honors to Savannah this year.

At the Miss Drill Team California Pageant which was held in January, Vickie was selected at third runner-up. This fine showing gave her the right to compete against girls from all over the nation in the Miss Drill Team USA International Pageant. In this event, which took place at the Los Angeles Sports Arena, Vickie received ninth place.

Judges considered the areas of routine content, modeling, and speaking ability when choosing winners for the pageants. The speech and modeling portions of Vickie's presentation earned her high scores from the judges and much applause from the audience.

Variety is one of the most important elements of a dance routine, and Vickie made this fact evident. The various styles of dance and the original moves that she used gave her performance an individuality which many others lacked.

Humor is often difficult to incorporate into a performance, but Vickie seemed to handle this problem with ease. Her facial expressions conveyed her fun-loving disposition and added a touch of comedy to an excellent routine.

1. Vickie pauses for a break during a practice session in the gym.
2. Graceful leaps proved to be an important asset to Vickie's performances.
3. Unique facial expressions showed Vickie's sense of humor.

Festival corps performed modern but mystical show

Eighteen of Savanna's most talented flag and rifle corps members were selected to represent Savanna as the 1980-81 flag and rifle festival corps. Performing their routine to the tune Rush Hour, the unit participated in many tournaments and competed against as many as 30 schools.

New uniforms were purchased by the group this year. The black satin outfits, accented by a white star around the left eye, provided an unusual touch to the show.

At the Saddleback competition, which was the first event of the season, the girls did an excellent show, and were presented with the honor of first place for their efforts. Outstanding showings at tournaments hosted by Loara and Magnolia High Schools earned second and third place trophies for the corps. In addition to these events, the unit competed at the West Coast Express Colorguard Competition and received a second place award. Performances were also held at Los Alamitos High School and the State Championships. During the month of April, the Fourth Annual Savanna Tall Flag and Rifle Competition was hosted. The girls performed for the last time at the Rebel show, which took place in May.

Under the leadership of captains Sue Cerminar and Berta Lang, and directed by Debbie Morse and Debbie Clift, the 1980-81 festival corps had a very successful season.

Like Columbus in the olden days

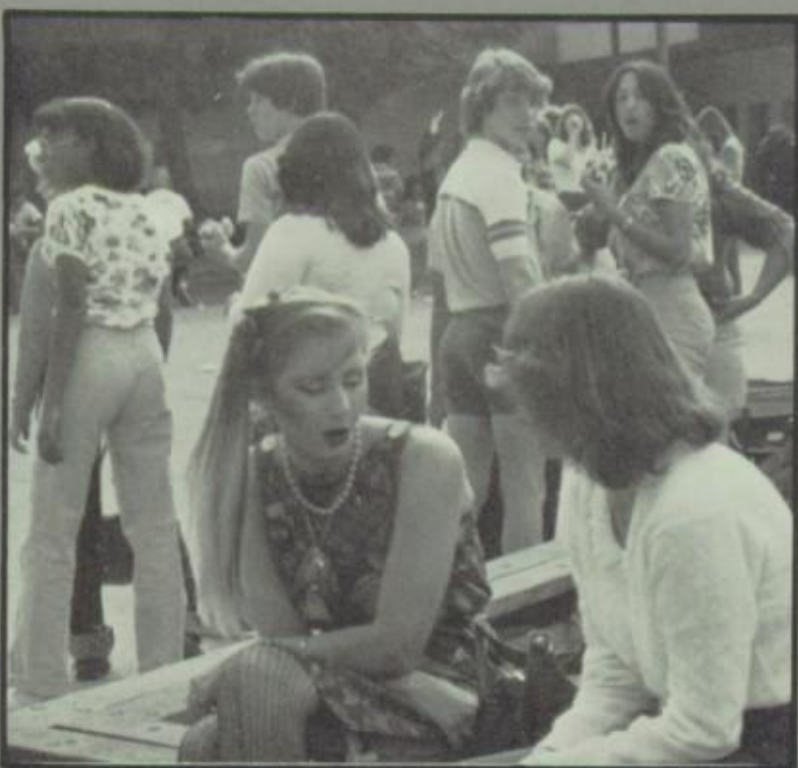

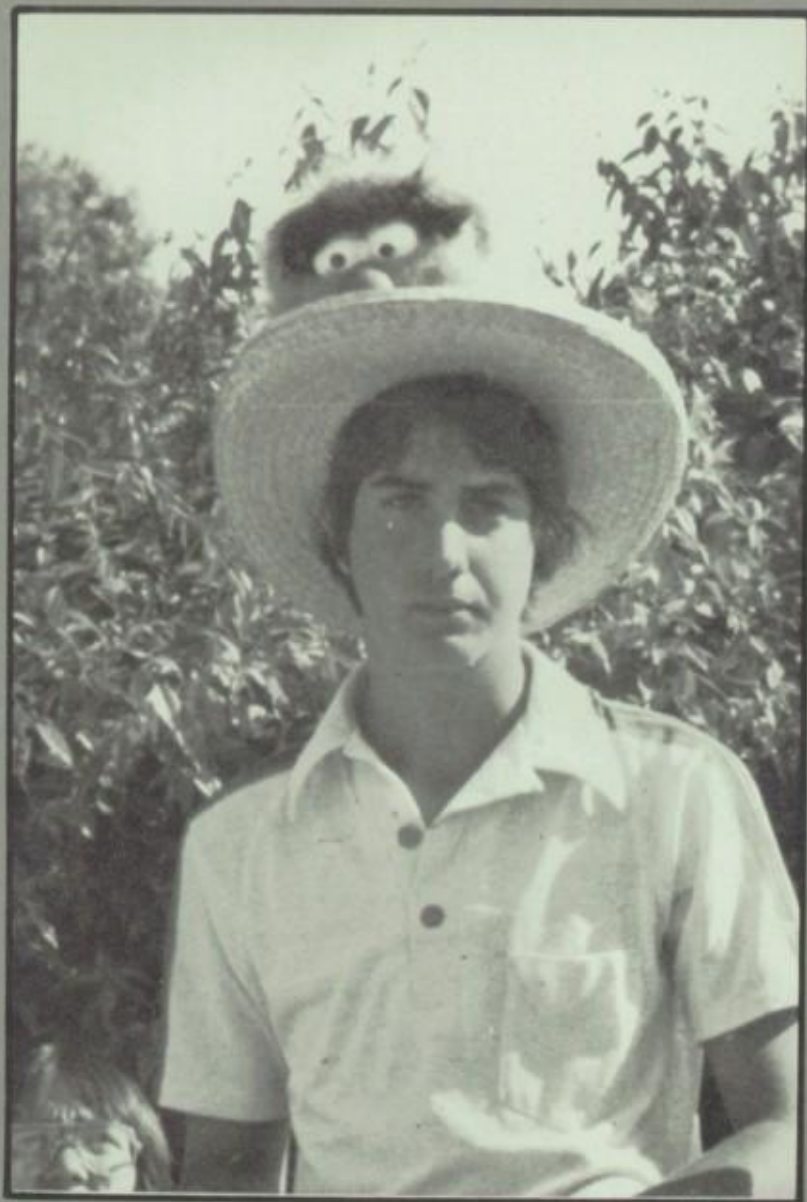

we must gather all our courage.

Sail our ships out on the open sea,

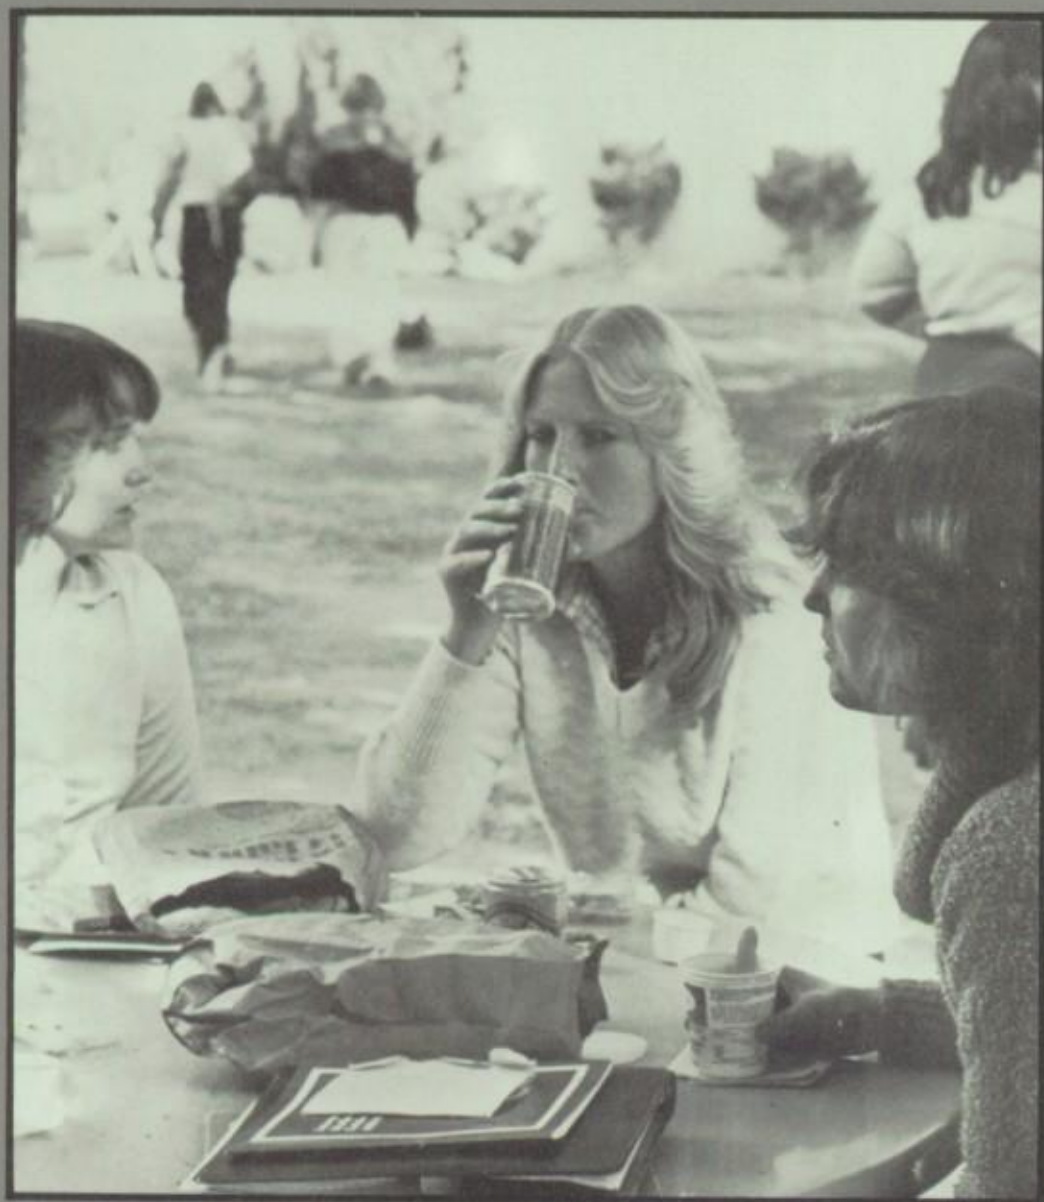

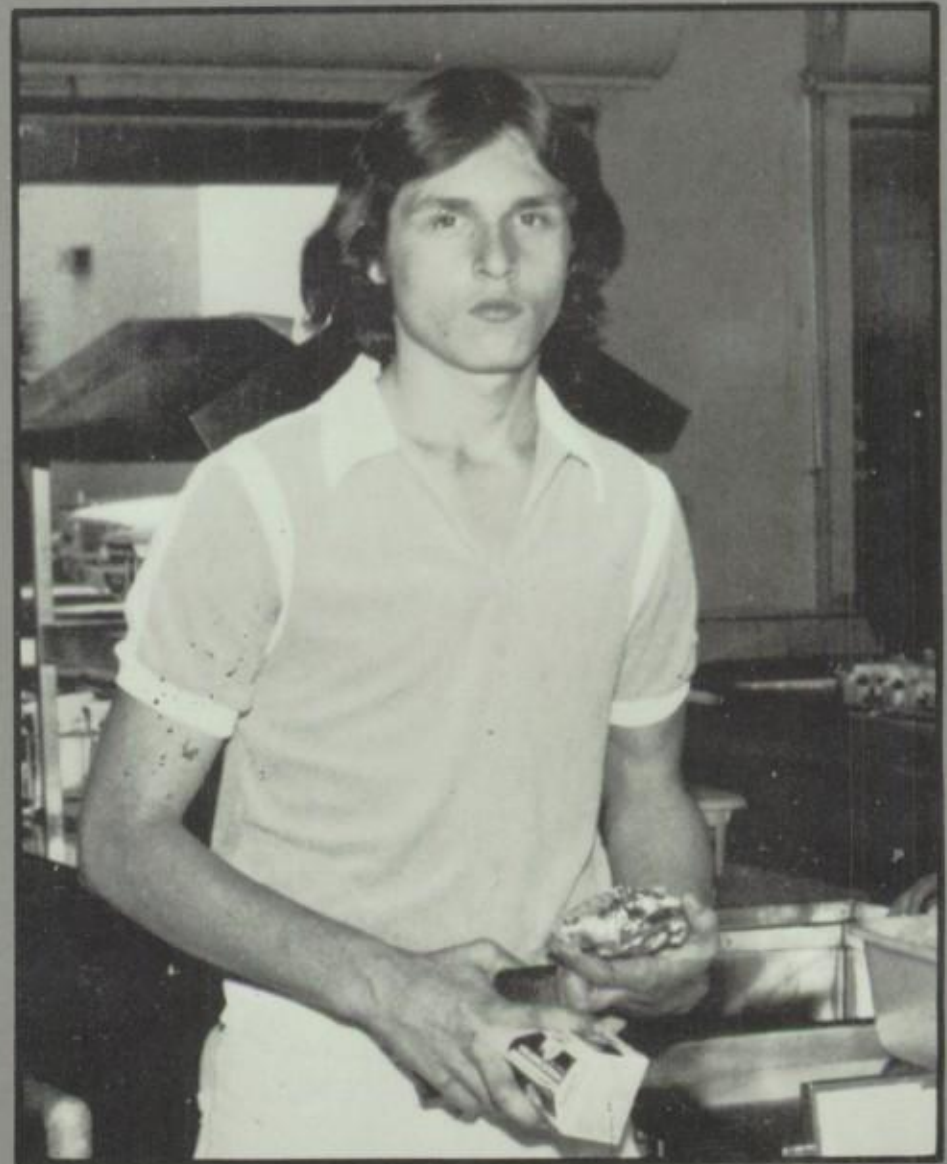

cast away our fears.

And all the years

that come and go

take us up, always up —

We may never pass this way again.

Mitch,

I'm glad we had several classes together. I also am happy we've gotten to know each other better. Those paper fights in Economics were too much and you really know your sports. Congrats on your 3-letter award, I've got to go pick mine up. Best of luck in the future at both your schooling and sports. We'll all have to get together over the summer, and listen to "sterile" sing. 778-6477

Too bad your leaving now we can't be seniors together oh well you've served your time now I have to. Maybe it'll ever make it up to Arizona. I'll see you "K" Take care and my best of luck to you in whatever you end up doing. You are really sweet good-looking guy keep in touch hope to see you around here the best summer ever.

Love ya

Donna

Mitch,
So a real cutie: Finally we're out of here. It's been fun knowing you.
You're a really nice person! I hope to see you during the summer at a party or somewhere! Good luck in the years to come. Take care!

Love,
Lisa Ducker

Mitch,
I am so glad I got to know you this year. I'm sorry I couldn't mark down more hits for you in Baseball. I hope you do well in Economics & that I see you at graduation. Have fun at Disneyland this summer & for the rest of your life!

Love
Stacy Cooper

Mitch, I've been Key Bro. You've been the greatest brother ever.
We sure were an awesome team of wide receivers. I think we had the best receiving corp in the league. Our second best quality is that we're so humble. Do you remember what we said we would do a long time ago?
We still haven't done it. Well have to do it during the summer with a couple of broods.
I think my favorite Baseball game was the Magnolia game. That was awesome. Remember when Benny had problems? That was sad. I can't wait to see you playing football at Fullerton next year. I should have gone to Fullerton to instead of breaking up "Twins A".
I decided that I would be better off going to UKI.
though. Well have to keep in touch though even though we're not going to the same school. Have a great summer and I'll see you around. Friends always,
Darryl

Mitch,
I'm telling you now because you always hear it anyhow. If I went out for football and baseball,
I would have been starting wide receiver and backup outfielder. You wouldn't stand a chance against my talents. So much for the jokes but I'm glad that I got to know you this year because I could always count on you for a few jokes during English. Good luck at Fullerton and if I ever feel depressed and if I need a good laugh, I'll come and watch one of your football games!
Your friend
Ted Glasco

P.S. Don't tell mom about what I did the other night and I won't tell on you either. The last thing I'd like to write is that the Radical Rebels of '81 rule.

Mitch,

To a great friend. I know we've been though alot together especially in Brastoff's and Buchanan's class. Even though we'll be going to different colleges
I want to keep in touch because we've been friends too long to lose touch with each other. If you tell me you're failing in college I'm really going to get you for it. Remember when you're going to "crank" in football at F.J.C. don't forget to let me know when you going to play so I can come and watch you be a stud, o.k. Congrats on making all league this year in football and does that mean you're on your way to being a big person like the guys at F.J.C. football team. You better keep in touch this summer. I can hardly wait to see what you're up to when our class reunion rolls around. You've been a really great friend and everytime I do something mean to you you've been a real sport about it. I'm going to also miss your teasing and I'm going to miss teasing you also. After all these years we're going to go to separate colleges and I'm going to be so sad its going to be ridiculous. It has been a crazy year at school but everytime I look at your picture or when I see you I'll remember all the humorous jokes you tried to crack.
Don't forget to send me a schedule of your footballs games. Mitch, there's more things I like to say but the memories are remember more than anything else. You've been really sweet to me and I hope our friendship will continue on forever. Good luck to you in life and in college. May the best things in life come your way. I know you'll succeed because you have the brains it takes, beside I have the confidence in you. When you turn pro and rich and famous, don't forget your friends. Here's my address so send me a schedule. (201 So. Hampton) You're a special person to me. Ana. Ca. 92804
Love,
Friends always. Wai (761-1589)

Mitch,

I'm glad I got to know you this year. You're a real Sweetie! Even though all the classes we had together were a drag I liked talking to ya. I hope to see ya in the summer and next year. Maybe I'll see you around the night we graduate. Good luck in the future you deserve it.
